J. S. DEAN, long time resident of the McCaulley and Hamlin communities, this week left with his wife to make their home in Fort Worth after more than a third of a century of residence in this area. They will be near two sons and a daughter who have lived in Cowntown for several years.

Dean, who as a builder and contractor, erected many of the business houses, industrial buildings and homes in this section, leaves his mark upon the community. No less a heritage will be his scores of friends he has made through the years.

As he prepared to leave for his new home, Dean ordered The Herald delivered at his new address at 4549 Houghton Street in Fort Worth. He has been a subscriber for a long time.

"We hate to leave Hamlin and our friends here," Dean declared, "but we want to be near our children and grandchildren."

A HAMLIN MAN who had only a few months of married life behind him had been giving his spouse some pointers about managing money and kindred subjects.

"I'm glad you're so impressed, dear, by all these explanations I have been giving you about banking and economics," remarked the young husband.

"Yes, darling. It seems wonderful that anybody could know as much as you do about money without having a y."

CHARLIE PAXTON, who has made Sweetwater his home for humpteen years, where he has been mixed up in civic affairs for years, while also being manager of the Gulf refinery that closed several months ago, continues to share his part of the load of community projects.

He was the officiating principal at installation of new officers last Wednesday noon at the Rotary Club shindig.

Charlie, before installing the new officials, commented that he was having a time living with his wife since she became a member of the grand jury recently for the Nolan County district court.

"She's so taken with her work," Charlie said, "that she's actually been out soliciting business for the grand jury to take up."

WHAT IS A BOY? He is a person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is to sit right where you are sitting, and attend to those things you think so important—when you are gone.

You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends upon him even if you make leagues and treaties, he will have to manage them.

He is going to sit at your desk in the Senate and occupy your bench on the Supreme Court. He will assume control of your cities, states and nation. He is going to move in, take over your prisons, churches, schools, universities and corporations.

All your work is going to be judged and praised or condemned by him. Your reputation and your future are in his hands. All your work is for him, and the fate of the nation and of humanity is in his hand.

So, it might be well to pay him some attention.

REV. VICTOR ORTIZ, who is doing a splendid work with the Latin Americans of the Hamlin community as pastor of the Mexican Baptist Mission of the First Baptist Church, has had a hectic and very interesting life, it was revealed last Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club, when he spoke of the program feature.

"My limited schooling in my childhood days," pointed out Vic, "was due to a number of factors. My parents had no schooling whatever, could neither read nor write, and naturally were little interested in seeing that their children were educated. At Sabinal in South Central West Texas, I remember going to school with Paul Kelly, Congressman from that area. We had many experiences together."

Rev. Ortiz, after giving his six children college educations, himself reentered school when he was 49 years of age and finished Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Berkeley, California.

Election Ballot for County is Prepared

Primary election ballot for Jones County voters for the July 26 election was set up last week by the Democratic executive committee, and absentee balloting already is underway.

There are three contested races on the county level, being in the races for county clerk, district clerk and justice of the peace for Precinct No. 1 (Anson). Also on the district level a contested race for state representative from the 85th District appears.

Order of the ballot as established by the executive committee is as follows: (with no uncontested state races being listed):

For Governor—W. Lee O'Daniel, Joe A. Irvin, Henry B. Gonzalez and Price Daniel.

For Lieutenant Governor—Ben Ramsey and George Nokes.

For U. S. Senator—Ralph Yarborough and William A. Blakely.

For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1—Robert W. Hamilton, Wilmer B. Hunt and J. Edwin Smith.

For Associate Justice, Place 4—Sarah T. Hughes and Joe Greenhill.

For Commissioner of the General Land Office—L. J. Dimmitt and Bill Alcorn.

For Commissioner of Agriculture—John C. White, Tom Griffin and Glenn H. Kothmann.

For Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, 11th District—Clyde Grisom.

For Associate Justice, 11th Court of Civil Appeals—Esco Walter.

For U. S. Representative, 17th Congressional District—Omar Burleson.

For State Senator, 24th District—Robert Patterson and David Ratliff.

Mrs. Hackley Goes to State TB Unit Session

Mrs. A. A. Hackley of Hamlin, a member of the board of directors of the Texas State Tuberculosis Association, will leave today for Austin, where she will attend a planning meeting of the executive group Friday.

Mrs. Hackley is an official in the Jones County TB Association. The Austin meeting will make plans for the state unit for the coming year.

Crops Get Big Boost from Showers, But Need More

Hubert Mortons, Injured in Wreck, Remain Critical

Condition of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Morton of Arlington, former Hamlin residents who were injured Sunday afternoon in an auto accident between Breckenridge and Palo Pinto, continued critical at press time for The Herald Wednesday morning, a check with relatives revealed.

Morton sustained a broken jaw (in two places) and an injured knee cap and internal injuries. His wife sustained severe head injuries and was still unconscious Wednesday morning. Their son, 13 years old, was not injured.

The Mortons were returning to their home Sunday afternoon after having attended a Morton family reunion at Lueders Saturday. As their 1958 Ford sedan approached the Stephens-Palo Pinto County line east of Breckenridge a pickup truck pulling another car swerved across the highway and the Morton car crashed into them.

Mrs. Morton was taken to a Breckenridge hospital by an ambulance from that city. Morton was taken to a Mineral Wells hospital by relatives when were traveling some distance behind the Morton car.

The accident occurred about a mile from the site of an accident that in November, 1954, took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morton of Hamlin, parents of Hubert Morton.

FORTY TONS OF CONCRETE—That's the amount contractors estimated poured down on three workmen at the new Sam Houston School at San Antonio. Two men, Jerry E. Hollingsworth, 26, of La Vernia, and Edward Carolan, 32, of San Antonio, were killed.

Biggest Rainfall To Three Inches In Hanna Section

Row crops in the Hamlin territory took a new lease on life over the week-end as showers measuring up to three inches fell upon thirsty cotton and maize. But, as is usually the case in this West Texas area, the crops need more rain.

After two or three days of cloudy, threatening weather, the refreshing showers came Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Best rains were in the Hanna section southeast of Hamlin, where three inches was reported. Cotton and feed rows were standing in water for several hours following the downpour.

Radium and Neida communities southeast and south of town reported from three-quarters to an inch.

Virgil Steele near McCaulley reported two-tenths of an inch, W. R. Townsend at Histon reported half an inch. T. & P. camp northwest of town reported an inch and a half. Sigmund Stovall and Johnny Hines northeast of Hamlin said they received over an inch.

Dove, Tuxedo and Plainview areas east and southeast of town had about an inch.

Official government gauge at the city pump station in Hamlin registered .43 of an inch, according to Bill Rountree, city superintendent.

Ten Hamlin Scouts Attending Philmont Ranch Outdoor Camp

Ten Hamlin Boy Scouts, one from Aspermont, and Scout leaders from both cities are among scores of Scouts and Scouters at the annual Philmont Boy Scout Ranch in Northwestern New Mexico this week. The group left Sunday, and the camp continues through July 17.

Boys making the trip are Bob Johnson, Ray Johnson Jr., Jerry Duncan, Jimmy Shivers, Santana Contreras, Jerry Smith, Jimmy Cooper, Bill Richey, Henry O'Neal and John Ferguson, all of Hamlin, and Wesley Duncan of Aspermont. Accompanying the boys are Weldon Johnson, Hamlin Scoutmaster, and Carl Duncan, Scoutmaster at Aspermont.

Philmont Scout Ranch was given to Boy Scouts of the Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado areas several years ago by J. W. Phillips, executive of the Phillips Petroleum Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Elmer Feagan Shoots Hole-in-One Monday

Elmer Feagan, amiable Conoco agent for Hamlin territory, after some 20 years of golfing, Monday afternoon finally became as good a golfer as Mrs. Joe League.

While playing a round with Chuck Abbott and Allen Ford, Feagan approached hole No. 8 as sedately as he could, took out a No. 7 iron and smashed the golf ball confidently. His companions oohed and aahed as they approached the green to learn that the ball was nowhere to be found—except in the cup.

Elmer thus became the second person to make a hole-in-one on the Lakeview Golf Club course. Mrs. Joe League did the same on the same hole two years ago.

Cemetery Working Slated at McCaulley

An all-day community working of the McCaulley Cemetery will be conducted next Tuesday, July 15, according to Mrs. Ted Abbott, secretary of the McCaulley Cemetery Association.

Relatives and friends of those who are buried in the cemetery are urged to participate in the working. They will please bring their own tools and a basket lunch which will be spread at the noon hour, it is announced.

Only one new citizen has been recorded at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital since last week's report in The Herald. The new arrival is:

A girl for Mr. and Mrs. Windell Barrett of Big Spring, who arrived July 3. Weighing a light six pounds 14 ounces, the little miss has been dubbed Charlotte Ann.

Husband of Hamlin Girl Injured at Rodeo

Condition of Charlie Dale Ward of Midland, husband of the former Shirley Griffin of Hamlin, who was seriously injured last Friday at Stamford when he was attacked by a rampaging Brahman bull at the Texas Cowboy Reunion, was sufficiently improved Monday that he was moved to Midland. He will be incapacitated for about six weeks, Hamlin relatives said Tuesday.

Ward sustained three broken ribs and a back injury when the bull smashed him against a chute gate. He was not a contestant.

Farmers of Hamlin Area Show Good Interest in Cotton Insect Control Work

There was good attendance of Hamlin area cotton farmers at the first cotton insect control short course offered by the vocational agriculture department of Hamlin High School cooperating with the agriculture education department of Texas A. & M. College, meeting Monday evening at the VA building, reports Claude Blankinship, VA teacher.

The meeting was under the direction of Blankinship. Explanation of the agricultural specialist program was made by E. L. Tiner, coordinator from the agriculture education department of Texas A. & M. In general the program is furnishing assistance to farmers through the Texas Education Agency cooperating with Texas A. & M. College working with local vocational agriculture teachers throughout Texas. It is a relatively new program promising valuable assistance of on-the-spot education to farmers.

Keen interest was shown by Hamlin area farmers at the first meeting. H. A. Turney, entomology specialist from A. & M., showed color slides and fresh specimens of both harmful and beneficial cotton insects. Details of identification, life cycles and habits of these cotton insects were discussed. Much interesting discussion centered around damages and control of harmful cotton insects in this area.

In a preliminary field inspection made Monday by Turney, Tiner and Blankinship in cotton fields of Bill Matchett and Orville Buntin, north of Hamlin, very few harmful insects were found. However, a fairly heavy infestation of cotton bollworms was found in

Hamlin People Will Attend Rotan Rodeo

Numbers of Hamlin area people are scheduled to attend the first annual Fisher County Sheriff's Posse Junior Rodeo at Rotan this (Thursday) evening and continues through Saturday evening with night shows.

The show is approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association, and points compiled in the rodeo will be counted toward the final championship in the different events, it is announced.

Opening feature of the rodeo will be a parade at 5:00 p. m. Thursday afternoon.

FORMER MAYOR of Hamlin and farm operator, Joe L. Culbertson died early last Thursday morning at his home in North Hamlin following a heart attack suffered the previous day. A story about Culbertson is being printed in today's Herald.

Early Moisture Fast Diminishes As Days Warming

After being spoiled again by the good rainfall of last year at this time after seven years of drouth, the Hamlin section is being chalked up as a dry country for the first six months of 1958. Only 9.15 inches of rain had been recorded at the U. S. government gauge at the city pump station for the period ending June, according to Bill Rountree, gauger for the area.

The 9.15 inches is less than one-half of the rainfall of 19.10 inches recorded through June in 1957, and a little less than the six-month average rainfall for the past 10 years. Since the government gauge has been maintained at Hamlin beginning in 1942, the average rainfall of the first six months is 9.82 inches, so taken as a long term gauge the precipitation has been nearly normal this year.

By months the rainfall this year has been: January, 1.12; February, 1.05; March, 1.14; April, 2.10; May, 3.18; and June, .56 of an inch.

In checking the rainfall table printed in today's Herald, it is observed that, while January and February rainfall this year was above the 17-year average, March, April, May and June have been below the average. This situation, of course, means that crops are hurting for needed growing and developing moisture. Head grains especially are feeling the pinch of hot, dry days, farmers will tell you.

Last year's rainfall total of 29.16 inches, biggest year recorded by the government gauge here, gave plenty of early moisture for crops, making the biggest wheat crop in area history, this year's rainfall has been abnormal when compared with most of the rest of the state. In fact, flooding conditions have persisted in much of South and East Texas during the past several weeks.

MECHANIZATION REQUIRES BIG FARMER STAKE

It costs a lot of money to farm during these days of mechanization, as any farmer during recent years can testify.

Efficiency is the key to profitable farm production, points out W. L. Ulich, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He says in a year-end summary, covering farm power and machinery, that Texas farmers are now using approximately 300,000 tractors and more than 2,500,000 allied farm implements in order to gain the advantages of efficient mechanized farm production.

Mechanized farming, his report shows, requires tremendous capital investments. In addition to over a billion dollars invested in equipment, Texas farmers spend approximately $95,000,000 annually for petroleum products and $75,000,000 for farm equipment repairs. The total cost of operating and maintaining this great array of mechanized equipment represents slightly more than one-third of crop production costs. Because of improper adjustments and maintenance and failure to give serious consideration to farm machinery selection problems, the farmers' profits each year are drastically reduced, he says.

In a determined effort to reduce these losses, the specialist reports that farm machinery training schools and field days were used to good advantage for passing on to farmers educational information. County extension agents in 163 counties with assistance from 640 trained leaders conducted farm machinery conservation programs. During the past year county agents held 124 county-wide machinery training schools, while more than 36,000 farmers received assistance on farm power and machinery problems by attending educational meetings. Too, report Ulich, more than 21,000 farmers carried out machinery maintenance recommendations.

During the past year more than 5,400 4-H Club boys were enrolled in the tractor maintenance demonstration program. The leaders who directed the local clubs were trained in district schools and were supplied manuals and other materials for use in connection with this maintenance program.

Welding schools for farmers were conducted in 16 counties during the past year with 312 participants. Too, approximately 16,800 pieces of home-made equipment were constructed from plans supplied by the Extension Service.

Good Year to Buy a House

This is a good year to buy a house, say the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine—prices are easing up, financing is not difficult, and down payments are smaller.

Mortgage money is waiting for borrowers, and banks, insurance companies and building and loan associations are looking for home buyers. If you are a good risk, and the house you want is a prudent choice, expect little trouble in getting terms favorable to you.

In many areas interest rates on mortgages are dropping from the six per cent of a few months back to five or five and one-half per cent, reflecting this pile-up of idle mortgage funds. If you hold one of the earlier high interest mortgages, this is the time to consider refinancing.

Down payments on both high and low priced homes will be smaller, and if you buy an FHA insured home you may be able to get more house for a smaller down payment.

Design trends for new houses will aim generally at providing more space and cutting down on expensive extras, such as intercom systems, which drove house prices up in recent years. Many builders, too, are building fewer expensive homes and more homes with lower price tags.

Older houses also will be good buys this year. Owners are more anxious to sell now that business is slackening, and if you are willing to haggle long enough, you may be able to cut a few thousand dollars from the asking price.

Nuggets of Thought

Responsibility walks hand in hand with capacity and power.—J. G. Holland.

Throw away all ambition beyond that of doing the day's work well.—Sir William Osler.

We must find our duties in what comes to us, not in what we imagine might have been.—George Eliot.

Do as well as you can today, and perhaps tomorrow you may be able to do better.—Newton.

The light that shines the farthest shines brightest at home.—Bruce E. Baxter.

It is not necessary to light a candle in the sun.—Algernon Sidney.

The taper unseen in sunlight cheers the darkness.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Walk boldly and wisely in the light thou hast; there is a hand above will see thee on.—Gamaliel Bailey.

Light Nature's resplendent robe; without whose vesting beauty all were wrapt in gloom.—Francis Thompson.

Today Has Passed

Whatever it held of good or evil is now woven into the inevitable pattern of life. I cannot recall one unkind word, nor retrace one foolish step. The tapestry is woven. I might look at the pattern and regret the threads of selfishness, the ravelings of hate, but I cannot remove them, for they are now a lasting part that holds together the weavings of today.

I may search for a thread of human kindness, may look for a touch of love and beauty to give color to my drab design, but if I did not weave them in my gleanings of today, I cannot add them.

Today has passed. But if tomorrow comes, it will offer me a clean and empty loom, and fresh strands of hope and faith. Perhaps then I can weave a lovelier pattern, with less of the gray of care and the purple of pain, and more of the gold of truth and the blue of trust and the shimmering white of faith and purity.

Perchance I can throw open my mental blinds so that there may be reflected upon my loom more of the sunshine of cheer and the hope of optimism. Perchance I can focus upon the beautiful instead of the ugly.

I will not be mortgaged to the past. Today is no more.

ANSWERING RUSSIA DEFENSIVELY

Russia is prostituting diplomacy for propaganda purposes, says Secretary of State Dulles. He admits it is having a measure of success in some parts of the world. He also admits that we are on the defensive. He does not think that we should resort to similar tactics and believes that "eventually" a better way will be found.

Though he seems not to realize it, he has already demonstrated the better way in his statement. One way to meet falsehood with counter-falsehood—false propaganda with counter-false propaganda. That is the only way if you do not have truth on your side.

The other way is simply to assert the truth and keep on asserting it. Russia's present propaganda in connection with its cessation of atom bomb testing is without the support of any evidence of good faith. This can be proved by challenging Russia to show good faith in accepting a dependable system of international inspection to assure international cessation of bomb testing.

The world can be made to know the bad faith in Russia's present propaganda diplomacy if we stand pat. Always the "big truth" can conquer the "big lie."—The Dallas News.

RECALLING

Other Years

★ Being news items taken from old files of Your Home - Town Newspaper, The Herald.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Goings-on in the Hamlin community 30 years ago included the following, being news briefs taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 20, 1928:

Mrs. J. O. Franks underwent serious surgery Tuesday in the Alexander Sanitarium at Abilene and is doing nicely.

Four Hamlin boys, Corporal Albert T. McClusky and Buck Privates Frank Anderson, Travis Conner and "Speck" McCluskey are doing duty as National Guardsmen at Camp Palacios this week.

Red stop signals have been installed this week near the Morgan Hotel and at the Stamford highway intersection.

Will A. Parker and little daughter, Louise, returned last week from Celina, Collin County, where they had gone to visit his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Berli Lacy returned Tuesday from Ruidoso Springs and Carlsbad, New Mexico, where they spent a week's vacation.

Royce Goodwin, Arlie Cassle and Coy McGee left Thursday for a 15-day outing in New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Items of interest in the news 20 years ago at Hamlin included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 8, 1938:

Stockholders, officers and employees of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank enjoyed a picnic at the Hamlin West Lake last Friday. Previously the stockholders met at the bank and elected the following officers: J. W. Ezell, president; W. J. Bryant, vice president; Tate May, active vice president; W. C. (Ted) Russell, cashier.

Rev. J. W. Griffin left last Saturday for Dexter, New Mexico, where he will conduct a revival meeting. While there he will visit in the home of a sister, Mrs. W. S. Morgan.

W. B. Gist, painter of Aspermont, was killed and burned about 2:30 Sunday morning at the Katy depot in North Hamlin when his car ran into the Katy freight train. Marie Akers left Friday for Kerrville, where she will spend her vacation at Camp Mystic.

TEN YEARS AGO.

From the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 16, 1948, the following news briefs of 10 years ago are reprinted:

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Hargrove and children visited friends and relatives at Cross Plains last weekend.

In the official statement of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at close of business June 30, 1948, deposits were totaled at $3,468,992.55.

Marilyn Smith of Stamford and Don Edward Petty of Hamlin repeated marriage vows Saturday at the Anson First Baptist Church.

Additional rains, totaling 2.71 inches since last Saturday, raised the water level in the Hamlin South Lake to within seven inches of the spillway, according to Bill Rountree, city water superintendent. This is about 14 months' supply for city water.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Files of five years ago reveal the following news items of the community five years ago, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 17, 1953:

Deposits at the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at the close of business on June 30, 1953, totaled $4,350,107.25, according to the official statement.

New officers have been elected for the coming year by members of the Hamlin High School chapter of Future Farmers of America as follows: Jackie Drummond, president; Paige Balza, secretary; Holly Toler, treasurer; Lavere Wilson, reporter; Boyce Irwin, historian; and Dawl Johnson, sentinel.

First water for city use in Hamlin from the new Paint Creek Lake will be turned on August 1, according to Mac Brundage, mayor.

ONE YEAR AGO.

News events in the area of one year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Herald dated July 11, 1957:

Cotton in the territory is doing fair, despite the need of moisture, but rains are hurting in face of the continuing drought.

Mrs. Bill Matchett, living two miles north of town, discovered a big rattlesnake under her sink at the home Saturday morning. City Policeman Jess Miller and A. Hudson, who went to her aid after a phone call, killed the critter with garden hoses.

SACK SWIM SUIT—An abandoned burlap bag which once held potatoes furnished shapely Barbara Pakebusch, 20, of Alice the material for this stylish sack swim suit. Seen at an Alice pool, the suit was a welcome addition to the line of feminine "sack" fashions.

Estimated 274 of County Men Leave Services in 1957

An estimated 274 Jones County men and women left active duty in the armed forces in 1957 while probably 140 were entering.

Number of Texans leaving active duty in the armed forces in 1957 far exceeded those entering, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday.

A total of 62,916 was discharged or transferred to reserve status during the past year, according to reports of discharge and transfer received by state selective service headquarters from the armed forces.

During the same year, state selective service headquarters received reports showing that 33,317 Texans entered the armed forces. Of this number 26,047 entered by volunteering and 7,270 were drafted.

"Actually, a good many of those who go in through the draft board enter service by voluntary action," Colonel Schwartz pointed out. "The draft law permits volunteering through a local board."

Selective service in Texas forwarded 16,645 men for pre-induction mental and physical examinations during 1957, state headquarters records reveal. Of this number, 10,077 were designated acceptable for service by the Army and 6,568 were rejected.

During 1957 the state's 137 draft boards registered 64,149 males, most of them 18-year-olds. Federal laws requires males to register at age 18 or within five days thereafter.

Under present regulations, no one is drafted until age 22 except those who volunteer; but registration is mandatory at 18. Texas has 1,053,000 males registered. Of this number, boards have classified more than 996,000.

Old Glory School Sets Initial Homecoming

First homecoming for all students, ex-students and teachers of Old Glory and schools (Hooker, New Hope, Brandenburg, Tonk Creek and Mount Zion) that have consolidated with Old Glory, will be held Sunday, August 31, it is announced by sponsors of the get-together.

Anyone having attended one of these schools, and who has not received an invitation, is asked to contact one of the following: Mrs. Polly Baltz, Mrs. Lillian Garner, Mrs. Odene Spitzer or Mrs. Euna Jones by July 20.

Most people are a little smarter than they seem.

Hamlin Territory Is Becoming More Interested in Water as Vital Necessity

More and more people of the nation, and West Texas in particular, are realizing the importance of water to their domestic, industrial and recreational needs.

Hamlin area people, because of the gyp content of much of the below-surface water, have realized this for years. In recent years Hamlin has been cramped for its water—even to the point of having water shipped in by railway cars several months before Paint Creek Lake was built.

Even now new interest is being shown in possibilities of reservoirs on the upper stretches of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River north and northwest of Hamlin.

Although the Brazos River watershed covers one-sixth of the area of Texas and one-sixth of its population, it contains only one-tenth of the state's industry, according to a study just completed by the research section of the Brazos River Authority.

Basis of the study was number of employees of manufacturing plants according to 1956 figures, the latest firm data available. Texas as a whole had 524,193 workers in manufacturing plants, of whom 52,213—or 9.96 per cent—were employed in the 65 counties that lie wholly or in part in the Brazos watershed.

The Brazos River Authority also queried Chambers of Commerce, in the watershed and close by, concerning the status of industry in their areas. The chamber managers unanimously declared that their cities had lost no industries for lack of water, even during the drought. But they were divided as to whether the water problem had kept new industries from moving into the Brazos watershed.

Several chambers reported that they had failed to win new industries because of the uncertainty of local water supplies, and others said that currently certain industries were hesitating to move into the area for the same reason. Various chambers estimated that assured supply of good quality water might bring in enough new industry to increase their populations by 50 to 1,000 per cent.

"Additional reservoirs on the Brazos and its main tributaries can provide the assured water supply that industry wants before it locates here," said J. H. Kultgen of Waco, president of the Brazos River Authority. "Our long range plan of development provides for enough water to serve greatly growing cities and industries while at the same time supplying more water than ever for agriculture. There is enough water in the Brazos to serve all these needs if we can agree on where to build the lakes to store it for dry periods."

MAKING YOUR OWN RULES.

Somebody once remarked to Will Rogers that Webster spoke perfect English.

"Shucks," snorted Rogers in his own inimitable way, "if I wrote my own dictionary, so could I."

There is only one way to make an honest dollar.

FINALLY IDENTIFIED.

In a crowded bus one day a fellow was surprised when the attractive young lady across the aisle smiled at him. And his face turned a bright shade of red when in a pleasant but loud voice, she asked, "Are you the father of two of my children?"

"Why, well—that is, I'm not sure. I mean I don't know." "I'm quite sure you are," she said. "I teach fourth grade at Washington School."

Safety in Home and on Farm Provides Topic for Good Neighbor Program

Safety in the home and farm safety was the subject for the program given by Mmes. L. A. Joiner and Dale Lain of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club at the last meeting.

Highlights from the program included:

How safe is your home? Three goals should be worked toward by all in the family:

1. Recognize and correct hazards.

Asa Goodgame Will Marry New Mexico Girl on August 30

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Phillips Jr. of Deming, New Mexico, have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Ruth Ann, to Asa Goodgame, son of Mrs. Opal Goodgame of Hamlin.

The couple will be married on Saturday, August 30, in the First Methodist Church in Deming.

Ann Bounds of Alpine has been named maid-of-honor, and Bill Sutherland of Hamlin will be best man. Ushering will be Jerry Carr of Hamlin and Shelby Phillips III of Deming.

Miss Phillips is a graduate of Stephens College of Columbia, Missouri, and Texas Christian University of Fort Worth as well as Harris College of Nursing. Her fiancé attended Texas A. & M. College at College Station and is present a student at TCU.

Be ready to deal properly with an accident if it should occur.

2. Each family member learn and use safe working habits and safe living habits.

3. Make your home a safe home. Our families should work together to keep our homes a safe place to live.

Look around you; each room of the home should be checked for hazards that might cause accidents.

On the farm accidents are great, but with a little care most of these could be eliminated.

a. Never refuel a tractor with the motor running.

b. Unguarded saws.

c. Sharp tools on the ground.

d. Keep vicious animals in safe corals.

e. Don't smoke in or near barn.

f. Don't let children ride on tractors or equipment.

These are only a few don'ts for safety on the farm.

The council delegate, Mrs. J. E. McCoy, gave the council report. She announced that a member of the Good Neighbor club, Mrs. Elmer Joiner, was elected as a delegate to the Home Demonstration Association state convention, to be held at Austin August 13.

Mmes. Dale Lain and Sam Hodges served refreshments to Mmes. Elmer Joiner, J. E. McCoy, A. A. Smith, Noel Weaver, L. A. Joiner, Dwain Stephens and James Brown.

BRIDE-TO-BE of Asa Goodgame of Hamlin is Ruth Ann Phillips (above) of Deming, New Mexico. The wedding date has been set for Saturday, August 30 at the First Methodist Church in Deming.

Donnie Sanderlin and S. C. Adair Married in Home Ceremony

Last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock Donnie Sanderlin and S. C. Adair were married in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Townsend of the Hilton community.

James Townsend of Denver City was best man, and Mrs. Townsend was matron-of-honor.

Robin and Rheana Sanderlin were candle-lighters.

Rev. J. H. Potter, pastor of the Sylvester Baptist Church, officiated in the double ring ceremony. Only relatives and close friends attended the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Sellers Beauty School of Fort Worth and also of Abilene Beauty School. For the past four years she has been an employee as a beautician in the Cactus Beauty Shop.

Adair is a son of Mrs. Dollie B. Adair of Brownfield, and is a stock farmer in the Sylvester community.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served by Mrs. I. D. Miller, Mrs. G. A. Daniel and Mrs. W. R. Townsend to the wedding attendants.

A bargain is something you cannot see at a price you cannot resist.

Sandra Faye Stuart To Be Wed August 23 To Sonny Winegeart

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Stuart of 29 Southwest Avenue E, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Faye, to George Edward (Sonny) Winegeart, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Winegeart, 734 Southwest Second Street.

The couple will exchange wedding vows at 7:00 p. m. on Saturday, August 23, in the Hamlin Church of Christ.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Hamlin High School, and her fiancé also is a Hamlin High School graduate. He has attended one year at Tarleton State College in Stephenville and is planning to go to Lubbock Christian College this fall.

First Baptist Women In Business Session

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met last Monday afternoon at the church for a business meeting and devotional period.

Mrs. Edgar Duncan presided during the business session. Reports of officers and committee chairmen were given, and plans for the month were outlined.

Mrs. D. W. Stell gave the devotional on "Gratitude." Mrs. C. R. Lovell concluded the program with "The Spiritual Tonic."

Special prayers were offered for the sick and bereaved of the community and for missionaries having birthdays that day.

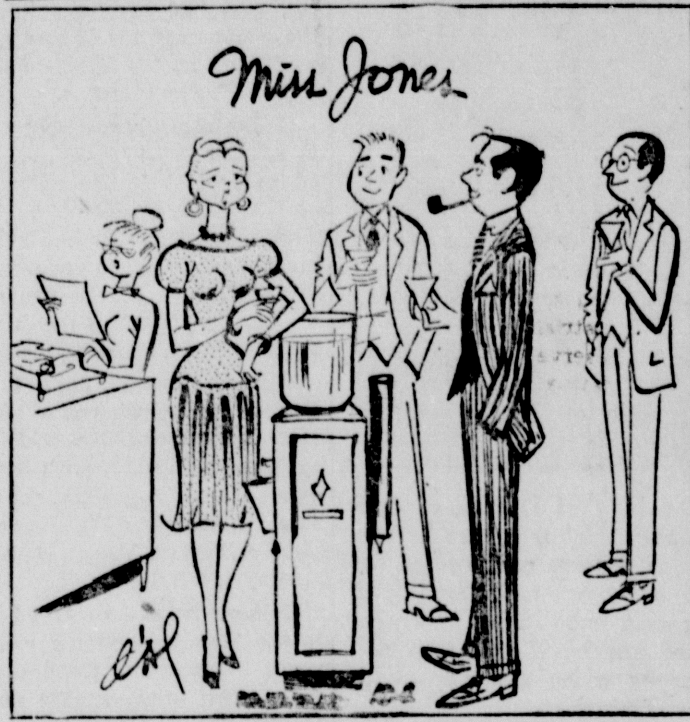

Maggie Seymore Attends B&PW Meet

Maggie Mae Seymore, member of the Hamlin Business and Professional Women's Club and a teacher in Hamlin public schools, is attending the biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Seattle, Washington, this week. The convention opened Friday and will continue through Sunday.

Miss Seymore is vacationing with relatives and friends in Seattle, and will take advantage of several side trips offered by the convention.

Mary Lou Maberry And Ronald Rowland To Wed August 9

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mary Lou Maberry to Donald Richard Rowland is being made by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kyle Maberry of McCaulley. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brad Rowland Sr. of Hamlin.

Wedding date has been set by the young couple for 8:00 p. m. on Saturday, August 9, at the First Methodist Church in Hamlin. Rev. James Pickens of Abilene will officiate.

The bride-elect is a graduate of McCaulley High School and Texas Technological College at Lubbock. She also attended Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She taught the past year in Lamesa High School.

Young Rowland is a graduate of Hamlin High School and McMurry College at Abilene, where he was a member of Kiwa social club and the Chanters. He is employed as a teacher in Lamesa High School also.

Alathean SS Class Meets Thursday in Cunningham Home

Members of the Alathean Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. L. J. Cunningham for their regular social meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Harvey Elkins, Joe League, Carl Green, O. R. Riddel, John Howard Jr., H. S. Stovall, Gene Prewitt, Doc Sims, J. C. Turner, B. O. Bell, members; Mrs. Tate May, class teacher; the hostess, Mrs. L. J. Cunningham; and a visitor, Mrs. Inez Howard Fields of Lancaster, California.

Mrs. Joe League opened the meeting with a prayer, which preceded an interesting lesson on the Book of Ruth by Mrs. Tate May. Mrs. Doc Sims dismissed the meeting with prayer.

Johnston-Parker Rites Read at —

In a quiet wedding on Tuesday evening, June 22, Mrs. H. A. Johnston became the bride of J. I. Parker at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church. Officiating at the rituals was the pastor, Rev. Edmund W. Robb.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to the Rio Grande Valley and Corpus Christi.

Sixteen Hamlin Girls Go to Area GA Camp

Sixteen girls from the First Baptist Church and four adult leaders were among the more than 600 attendants last week at the annual District 17 Girls' Auxiliary camp at Lueders.

Girls making the camp were Marilyn and Carolyn Reynolds, Anne and Lynn Shelburne, Connie Jo Duncan, Mary Lois Patterson, Mary Fitzgerald, Jeannette Green, Lynn Ann Miller, Rose Lovell, Mary Margaret Turner, Mary Ann Elkins, Rheana Sanderlin, Linda Legan, Christie Wallace and Sue Johnson.

Adults leaders accompanying the girls were Mmes. Edgar Duncan, Frank Legan, Charles Lovell and H. D. Lain.

Highlights

AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

Austin.—Mid-way through the so-called "recession year" of 1958 Texas economic forecasters are turning their eyes upward again. Statistical reports show steady improvement in overall business activity since the bleak lows of February and March. If the hoped-for pick-up in oil demand develops during the latter half, analysts say, "1958 may be a good year after all."

Some of the bases for the current atmosphere of cautious optimism are these:

Bank Deposits.—Folks have lots of money in the banks; in most areas more than last year. Response to the Texas Banking Commission's mid-year call for condition of banks showed that most have higher deposits than last summer and some are at new record highs. Dallas County bank deposits increased by $333,000,000; Harris County (Houston) by more than $267,000,000 over a year ago. Towns with all-time high deposits were Amarillo, Midland, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Denon and Fort Arthur.

Retail Sales.—Despite sag here and there, Texas retail sales are expected to run some seven per cent ahead of 1957, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Because of low months early in the year, sales volume for the first five months of 1958 were one per cent below the same period for 1957. But a late spring upsurge put May, 1958, sales ahead of those for May, 1957. Apparently Texans are concentrating on essentials. Compared to last year, farm implement sales were up 27 per cent, food up 11 per cent, autos down eight per cent.

Business Index.—BRR's latest report shows the 1958 level of general business activity four per cent below May, 1957. But May, 1957, was a dizzy pinnacle, the highest ever reached by the Texas business index. Since the low in March the index has made encouraging progress, pulling up by eight points. Fall will bring the tip-off, says BRR, as to whether recovery momentum is sufficient for a rise to a new crest.

Employment.—Although thousands more were out of work than a year ago, Texas Employment Commission's most recent overall survey showed a substantial shortening of the jobless lines. Like the general business index, employment seemed to be making a steady recovery from the early spring "trough." Number of unemployed dropped 4,200 during May, TEC reported, and non-farm employment rose to almost 3,000,000. Insured unemployment in Texas was only 4.1 per cent of the working force compared with the national average of 7.2 per cent.

Company Challenged.—A king size clash is in prospect July 15 between the State Insurance Department and National Bankers

Life Insurance Company of Dallas. Commissioner William A. Harrison has ordered the company to prove fitness of its management or lose its license.

National Bankers, regarded as one of the largest and most prosperous companies in the Southwest, claims more than $19,000,000 in assets. Some $5,000,000 of these are discounted by the department as unsound or unsuitable for an insurance company. Specifically questioned by the state are a number of mortgage loans made by the company to other firms in which the company's officers or directors have an interest.

Company President Lester F. Hall said the firm's financial footing is so sound it could raise $5,000,000 in a matter of hours. He said the company had a premium income of $10,000,000 last year and net earnings of some $1,000,000.

Glad to Move Over.—Despite the prospect of losing "biggest state" honors, Texas officials say they're happy to welcome Alaska as No. 49. Sample comments:

Governor Price Daniel: "We will still have the biggest navy."

Secretary of State Zollicoffer: "I'm glad another state will bear the brunt of the gags about being the largest state."

Attorney General Will Wilson: "I suggest they nail down their off-shore lands before they enter the union."

Semi-Westward Ho!—Redesigned Texas tan uniforms have brought a new look to the Texas Highway Patrol. Semi-western in style, the uniforms sport black trim, black shoes, wide brimmed grey hats with western crease.

Only 380 patrolmen and other division members of the Department of Public Safety are outfitted at present. New uniforms for the rest of the force will have to wait for another appropriation from the Legislature.

Taxpayers Get Wary.—Slump in federal income tax collections in Texas the past several months has been noted by Internal Revenue Service officials.

Cause has been attributed to recession minded taxpayers lowering their estimates of income for the year. South Texas Collector Bob Phinney thinks, however, most will wind up making just as much money as last year.

Last year Texans paid a record breaking $2,600,000,000 in federal income taxes, about $128,000,000 more than in the year previous.

School Cost Climb Seen.—Texas counties expect cost of education to climb $70,000,000 annually in the next five years.

This was revealed in reports of 251 counties to the Hale-Aikin survey committee on public education. Most of the increase would go for expansions necessary to keep up with increasing enrollment.

Counties differed as to how the money should be raised. Twenty-five per cent favored higher local taxes or increased valuation. Forty-four per cent wanted additional money from the state. Nine counties favored federal aid. And 35 recommended a sales or income levy.

Short Snorts.—Walter Buckner, publisher of The San Marcos Record and past president of the Texas Press Association, has been named by Governor Daniel to the Industrial Accident Board. He will serve as the employer representative. The two other members of the board are Ned Price of Tyler, representing labor; and Leonard Carlton of Austin, representing employees. . . . A $20,500 grant for re-codifying Texas school laws has been provided by the M. D. Anderson Foundation of Houston. A legislative committee headed by Representative Robert H. Hughes of Dallas is in charge of the work. . . . Preliminary report on a comprehensive survey of Texas water resources has been submitted to Governor Daniel. It was requested by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and prepared jointly by state and federal water agencies. Contents of the report will not be released for publication until final approval is given. . . . Farm experts expect that a 92-year-old record for cotton yield per acre may be topped this year. Second highest yield was recorded last year at 295 pounds. All-time high was 325 pounds per acre in 1886—when soil was virgin. . . . Governor Daniel has proclaimed July 14 to 20 as State Park Week to call attention to

SIMMONS TO NORTH.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Simmons left last week for a vacation in Minnesota, where Jimmy will fish in some of the famous 10,000 lakes of that northern state.

SWEETWATER VISITORS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carnes and son, Clifton Lee, of Sweetwater visited last week-end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cox.

VISIT MRS. COWAN.

Mrs. Sallie Hizer of Memphis, Tennessee, a cousin, and Mrs. John N. Grisham of Abilene, a sister, are house guests this week of Mrs. Florence Cowan.

It is okay to use friendship as a drawing account, but don't forget your deposits.

Jorja Blackmon of Shallowater, Texas, wears a two-piece dress which was judged the top cotton outfit in a statewide 4-H Dress Revue. Jorja both grows and sews cotton. She had a four-acre crop all her own in 1957.

Estimated Two from County Due to Be in August Draft Call

An estimated two from Jones County will be included in the August draft call for men to the service.

The state quota for Texas draft boards in August calls for 539 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday.

The state's August call of 539 compares with a quota of 538 in July, previously announced. The August call is the state's share of a national call of 10,000, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that approximately 1,700 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in August.

The August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, with exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

Tips on Deductions For Farmers Aid at Income Filing Time

Hamlin area farmers are advised by Tax Man Sam that the county agent probably has a few 1958 "Farmer's Tax Guides" left over from 1957. Studying about taxes may not particularly appeal to you, but if you are going to sit on the front porch one of these days when it is too wet to plow the north 40, you might grow one or two profitable tax deductions by reading a copy of this free publication.

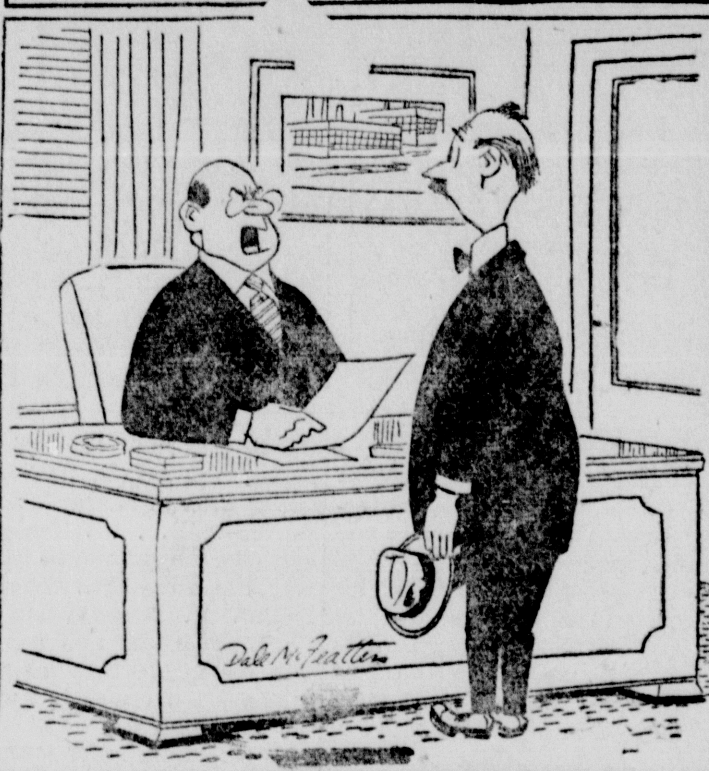

This booklet explains taxes in language that a dirt farmer can understand. If your county agent does not have this booklet, write to the Internal Revenue Service in Dallas or visit your local Internal Revenue Service office for this booklet.

We believe you will find that you have plowed through tougher things than reading this booklet. Let's hope that if you do plow through these tax problems, you will reap some good tax deductions.

Economy is in itself a source of great revenue.—Seneca.

Stepped-Up Shipments of Imported Beef Disturbing to Cattlemen in U. S.

Word received in Fort Worth this week is that stepped-up shipments of boned beef entering the United States on the West Coast have slowed down the operations of processors, in some cases 75 or 80 per cent, according to the weekly market summary of Ted Gouldy, special market reporter for The Herald. His release continues: One spokesman said, "Even if cows were 10 cents a pound cheaper, it would not slow down the imports."

The meat is used primarily by canners and sausage makers.

The Florida Cattlemen's Association recently passed a resolution demanding that imported meats be labelled plainly as such, so as to minimize competition with United States meat.

New Zealand newspapers are also claiming final arrangements have been made to ship 1,300 cattle from North Island, New Zealand, to San Diego, California. These reports indicate the Modern Imperial Cattle Company of California is expected to supervise the shipment, which will be the first shipment of feeders to the United States. United States tariff is 1.5 cents per pound.

Projected imports of live cattle had been talked some months ago but it was reported later the prospective importers had abandoned the notion.

Cattle trade was active and prices were generally fully steady at Fort Worth Monday. Fat steers and yearlings were highly uneven as some buyers showed little interest in the offering at current prices. However, the few lots that were on hand cleared without mishap.

Cows and bulls were active, and stocker and feeder classes of cattle and calves again enjoyed very broad demand. Choice fat calves were in small supply.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $24 to $27.50, a few higher. Common and medium grades sold from $17.50 to $24. Culls drew $14 to $17.

Medium and good stocker steer calves cashed at $24 to $30 and a few steer calves of lighter weights sold to $32. Stocker heifer calves of medium to good grades sold from $23 to $29. Medium to good stocker and feeder steers cashed at $22 to $26, and commoner quality sold from $18 to $21. Stocker heifers ranged from $24 downward.

High grade offerings were virtually lacking in the sheep barns at Fort Worth. Trade was active and prices fully steady Monday on all kinds, quality considered. Good to choice slaughter lambs cashed at $21 to $23 and cull to medium springers sold from $13 to $20. Feeder lambs cashed at $17 to $19. Good fat yearlings sold from $17 to $18, and cull to medium yearlings sold from $12 to $16. Aged wethers sold mostly from $10 to $12.50. Slaughter ewes sold from $6.50 to $7.50. Aged bucks sold around $6, and a few solid mouthed bucks sold to $9. Goats cashed at $7 to $7.25.

Hogs were steady, and choice butchers cashed at $24.25 to $24.50. Medium to good hogs cashed at $22 to $24. Sows sold mostly from $19 to $21.

U. S. Department of Agriculture offices in Fort Worth made available the June 15 parity ratios this week. Beef cattle and calves were standing at 96 per cent of parity, hogs were at 98 per cent of parity, and lambs held at 82 per cent of parity. Wool was only 53 per cent of parity.

God Has Purpose For Every Life, Ortiz Tells Lions

"God has a purpose for every man's life," declared Rev. Victor Ortiz, pastor of the Mexican Baptist Mission in Hamlin, when he spoke last Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

The preacher, after recounting many of his early day experiences which he admitted were wicked and criminal, urged his hearers to let God have His way in their lives for good. "Make Him your partner in business; consult Him often through prayer."

Ortiz had a hectic life in his young manhood, he declared, recounting his moving from job to job, and his numerous brushes with the law. He farmed, worked at tree grubbing, in a rock quarry, steel mills, dairying and other places. While in jail—and he admitted he had spent many months in jails over the country—he was converted and called to preach in 1940.

Fred Boen, Hamlin service station operator, was installed as a new member of the Lions Club. He was initiated by E. A. Hewett, Lion tamer.

Besides Ortiz, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon were Kirby Clayton of Anson, county agent; J. H. Hefner of Stamford, E. G. Holcomb of Stamford and Leon Thurman of Anson.

Riots Are Not Typical of American Way, Observes Congressman Burleson

Since recorded history, riots have occurred among people all over the world, points out Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news letter to The Herald. He continues: In many countries today it is a national expression. Particularly in countries where people are of high emotional nature, it is an expression of political discontent. Especially is this true of student groups.

It is difficult for us to understand the influence of university students in this respect in Latin America. Student riots many times become the forerunner of revolution in one form or another.

Riots which have occurred in this country have been of a different nature. Largely, and almost without exception, they have been race riots spontaneously erupting. However, we now see what is called political demonstrations which could easily develop into political riots. In fact, a large group of Hungarian refugees demonstrating in front of the Soviet embassy in New York, in an attempt to destroy or damage the embassy property, resulted in the injury of a number of policemen.

In the past few years it has not been uncommon to see marchers parading up and down the streets outside the white house grounds. One look at the usual demonstrators immediately identifies the individuals as not being the usual American type, but rather some imported type. They are the ones who would injure American peace officers and destroy American property or that for which the United States is responsible.

It makes no difference as to who they are or for what purpose they are demonstrating, it is not the American way of doing things and would not occur were we not opening the doors to a lot of people who should not be permitted in this country.

Certainly, citizens have the right to protest their government's action in any way they see fit but not by force and violence. The American remedy against what they believe to be wrongful actions on the part of government officials or government policy is by voice and pen; by public or private conversation and by petition.

Mob action and the spirit of force and violence resulting in riot as about as un-American as can be. It violates the total concept of our system of government and gives reason for false propaganda to our enemies.

A Senate committee is now investigating the Mafia, an Italian criminal society organizing on the island of Sicily. The inquiry particularly is directed as to how this criminal organization is infiltrating respectable organizations in the United States. By reports, it seems some senators are astounded that these alien gangsters have not been deported. As mentioned in this column some weeks ago, it is seemingly virtually impossible to deport an alien as long as he has money enough to stay in the courts. Furthermore, it seems he can get political help to remain here and engage in crime, which is costing the American taxpayer almost $12,000,000,000 a year.

At the same time, there are those who continue to promote government programs to admit people we call "refugees" and "escapees" who congregate in ghettos in the great cities to contribute to this unhealthy condition which is manifesting itself more and more.

In all things it is better to hope than to despair.—Goethe.

SCHOOL TIME IN JUVENILE HOME—Mrs. Shirley Ryan, one of the two University of Corpus Christi education majors, who teaches at the county juvenile home at Corpus Christi, tells her class how laws are made and why individual citizens are expected to obey them. The experimental school has been praised by juvenile authorities as an aid in helping delinquent children make readjustments.

First Aid Can Be Administered in Most Cases by Qualified Member of Family

Every three seconds someone in the United States needs prompt first aid for an accident or illness. Often the right kind of aid makes the difference between life and death.

Being prepared to give effective first aid takes time and study—before emergencies arise. It is too late to learn and dangerous to guess afterward. You and your family can meet most emergencies by enrolling now in a first aid course, learning how to follow through on these 10 aids to give first:

1. Act promptly. Examine the victim from head to toe. Look for breathing obstructions, bleeding and broken bones.
2. Send for help. First aid "holds the line" until a physician takes over. Call him at once.
3. Stop bleeding. A snug bandage or pressure dressing usually checks bleeding. If not, press firmly at the point which cuts off blood flow to the injured area. Use a tourniquet only when other methods fail.
4. Look for shock—face drained of color, cold moist skin, rapid weak pulse, fainting. Wrap the victim in blankets, make him lie down unless doing so will make other injuries worse, and try to calm him. If he can swallow, has no abdominal injury, and is not vomiting, have him drink as much "shock solution" as possible. Make the solution by stirring one teaspoon of table salt and a half teaspoon of baking soda into a quart of water.

5. In poisonings, follow antidote instructions on the poison container label if it is at hand. Otherwise, give egg whites beaten in water, or plain water, to dilute poison. If the poison was not corrosive or kerosene, induce vomiting.

6. Give artificial respiration in drownings or electrical shock. Learn artificial respiration techniques now, before an emergency.

7. Handle with care. Don't move an injured person unless necessary; then use a stretcher, or make one with blankets, a board or ladder padded with clothing.

8. Splint broken bones. The time honored rule is to "splint 'em where they lie." Make splints from any firm object, and long enough to reach well beyond the joints above and below the suspected break.

9. Care for burns by applying a sterile gauze dressing and cover with bandages. Don't pull off clothing stuck to burned tissue. In case of chemical burns, rinse immediately with plenty of water.

10. After covering wounds with sterile dressings, bandage to guard against infection, reduce bleeding and lessen pain.

FISH AT POSSUM KINGDOM.

L. W. Bond and Leaford Stone of Hamlin fished out of Shaker's Camp on Possum Kingdom Lake last week-end and caught 25 crappie and 10 sand bass on minnows. The Herald is advised.

David A. Ulmer, Area Farmer, Dies Thursday at Home

Funeral services for David Allen Ulmer, 66-year-old farmer out on Route 2, Hamlin, were conducted last Thursday afternoon at the Hamlin First Baptist Church.

Ulmer, who had been ill about three weeks, died at the family home last Tuesday night. He had been a resident of the community since 1942.

Born October 5, 1891, at Bonham, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ulmer. He married the former Eula Hanson at Stamford on June 16, 1916. They had farmed in the area for 16 years.

Officiating for the final rites Thursday afternoon was the pastor, Rev. Calvin Bailey, who was assisted by Rev. R. A. Guthrie and Rev. John Hollan.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Surviving Ulmer are his widow, Mrs. Eula Ulmer of Hamlin; four sons, Alvin Ulmer of Sagerton, Ray Ulmer of Hamlin, Macon Ulmer of Olney and Ewell Ulmer of Hobbs, New Mexico; four daughters, Mrs. George (Stella) Huftstutler of San Angelo, Mrs. A. M. (Bertha) Hughes of Lake Charles, Louisiana, Mrs. J. A. (Carol Ann) Traugher of Seelye, California, and Mrs. R. M. (Jean) Bennett of Rotan; three brothers, Leonard Ulmer of Stamford, Philip Ulmer of Fort Worth and Henry Ulmer of Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Cora Coleman and Mrs. Emma Coleman of Ackerly and Mrs. Frank Sasebee of Stamford; and 16 grandgrandchildren.

VISITS IN OKLAHOMA.

Mrs. H. A. Johnston spent part of her vacation in Oklahoma City visiting with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Moore, and children.

Sunday School Total Attendance Slumps to Record Low Sunday

Attendance at Sunday Schools of Hamlin churches took the biggest dip in several years Sunday when only 823 was recorded by the 12 reporting churches. This total was 435 less than previous week and 328 less than the year ago total. Vacations and outings resulting from the long holiday week-end apparently were responsible for the major drop.

Attendance by churches, for July 6, June 29 and a year ago follows:

Churches—	July 6	June 29	Year Ago

Mrs. Minnie Boiles Succumbs Friday After Short Illness

Mrs. Minnie Lee Boiles, 71-year-old wife of a retired Hamlin area farmer, succumbed last Friday morning at the family home on Route 3 out of Hamlin after an illness of about two months.

Born Minnie Lee Gibbs on November 18, 1886, in Van Zandt County, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gibbs. She married H. Boiles in Eastland County on December 27, 1903. They had resided in the Hamlin area for 26 years.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Foursquare Gospel Church in Hamlin. Officiating at the services were T. J. McClelland, Gene Pennick and Sister Oma Jones.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Surviving Mrs. Boiles are her husband, H. Boiles of Hamlin; five sons, T. A. Boiles of Midland,

Mrs. Charles H. Scott Attends English Clinic

Mrs. Charles H. Scott, teacher of English in Hamlin High School, returned Friday from Wichita Falls, where she attended a three-week English workshop at Midwestern University.

Her course was in "Structural Linguistics," being under the sponsorship of the National Council of Teachers of English. It was the first such workshop offered in this area, Mrs. Scott said. Featured lecturers included Dr. Sumner Ives of Tulane University at New Orleans, Louisiana, and Dr. Priscilla Tyler of Western Reserve University of Cleveland, Ohio.

J. E. Boiles of California, H. B. Boiles of Fort Worth, O. D. Boiles of Breckenridge and Buster Boiles of Midland; five daughters, Mrs. I. C. Crawford of Abilene, Mrs. J. W. Stapler of Hamlin, Mrs. Harold Martin of Abilene, Mrs. O. C. Sanders of Midland and Elena Inez Boiles of Hamlin; one brother, Robert Gibbs of Oklahoma City; one sister, Mrs. Solie Ervin of Dallas; 35 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Faulkner's Story of Deep South Slated As Ferguson Film

Jerry Wald's production of William Faulkner's "The Long, Hot Summer" was anything but that in the making. The staff and the cast were plagued by rain, the weather was the coldest the area had suffered all year, every member of the cast and crew came down with colds or influenza, the daylight was so quick to fade that the day's shooting schedule had to be shortened and filming began on the first day of autumn.

However, in spite of all these handicaps, Wald and Director Martin Ritt took a brilliant cast—Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Anthony Franciosa, Orson Welles, Lee Remick and Angela Lansbury—and a superb story by one of America's greatest living authors and turned it into a Twentieth Century Fox presentation which captures technically, as well as artistically, the real flavor of the Deep South.

Ironically, Mississippi, where the story is set, did not quite look like Mississippi to the prying eye of the cinemascopic cameras. So the entire company set up shop in the Baton Rouge area of Louisiana. This, they decided, really looked like Mississippi.

Shooting in seven main locations—near St. Francisville, two private homes near Clinton, near False River, at The Hermitage, an ancient manor house near Darrow, and in the Clinton town square, the company managed to grasp the kind of backdrop for which the term of Wald and Ritt are rapidly becoming famous.

At every turn there seemed to be something happening which made the production, which plays at the Ferguson Theater Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, even more difficult. Paul Newman sustained a bad head gash from a fall and had to be photographed only from a distance for over a week. Anthony Franciosa ripped his left hand on a pick during a scene, Lee Remick's face swelled up from an infected tooth and her scenes had to be cancelled for days.

VISITS ALAMO—William Blakley, candidate for United States senator, takes time out from a busy schedule to visit the Alamo at San Antonio, and take some movies. Independence and Freedom Can Only Be Secured by Vigilance, Says Johnson

A deep concern about the future of our country is shared, I think, by all Texans and all Americans, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news letter to The Herald. His release continues: All of us realize, I believe, that the way of life we have known is under attack as it has never before been under attack during the 182 years since our declaration of independence declared this a free nation and its individual citizens capable of self government.

No one can read the alarming daily headlines without wondering whether our children will enjoy the rich, full life that has meant so much to Americans. All of us want our children to grow up in a country where freedom and opportunity are more than slogans.

This is a goal we can achieve if we unite on the things we are

for—instead of dividing on the things we are against.

The major problem before us is maintaining the strength that will preserve our freedoms. And that does not mean military strength alone. A nation that is strong and vital in spirit will not lack for the power to defend itself. And strength and vitality exist in proportion to the care we devote to our problems as a nation and as a people.

One of the things we have learned in the 182 years of our existence as a nation is that independence and freedom cannot be maintained merely because we desire their maintenance.

We have to work at it—consciously and knowingly—to have freedom as a way of life. And part of the work, an integral part, involves making sure that our government is not only free but effective as well.

Working for freedom is not a part time job. It follows that government itself cannot be a "something thing"—something we look to only when somebody is in trouble or when election day is at hand. Our responsibilities as freedom loving citizens of a free and independent nation must be exercised every day.

Over the years, our country has been good to us—as it was good to our fathers and their fathers before them. We have had good times and we have had bad times. We have known both prosperity and adversity. We have experienced both war and peace. But even in the worst of times, our country has still offered us more freedom and greater opportunity than any other the world has ever known.

This is our heritage and it is a noble one. We must guard it against enemies from without. We must unceasingly protect it against erosion from within. Only through the exercise of unceasing vigilance can we hope we pass on to those who come after us the rich

Cotton Insects in Section Continue To Be on Increase

Fleahoppers, boll worms and boll weevils in increasing numbers are reported this week in the Hamlin area, according to the weekly cotton insect report of Texas, released by the Texas agricultural extension service in cooperation with the plant pest control branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Highlights of the general state reports, with special paragraphs on the Northwest Texas area, are taken from the release as follows: Thrips infestations were reported light in all areas except East, Northeast, Central, West Cross Timbers, Northwest and North Plains. Fleahopper infestations were reported to be ranging from light to heavy in all areas of the state. Bollworms and weevils were observed to be generally light to medium throughout the state, except in the Lower Valley where sharp increases have been noted.

Light infestations of pink bollworms were reported light in Central and North Central areas. Grasshoppers were reported to be causing severe damage in the Northwest area and causing some damage on field margins in Central and North Central areas. Other pests such as aphids, leafworms, spider mites, square borers, lygus bugs and cabbage loopers were reported to be causing some damage.

In the Northwest Texas area, of which the Hamlin section is a part, this report is made: Light to medium infestations of thrips were reported in Wilbarger County. Light infestations of fleahoppers were reported from Wilbarger, Jones and Stonewall Counties. Severe grasshopper infestations were reported from Hall County. Bollworms and weevil infestations were reported light in Jones County with lygus bugs infestations heavy.

Business Planning All During Year Helps At Income Tax Time

A large part of us might prefer to forget all about income tax payments after April 15, and not worry about it again until at least April 14, 1959, when we have to fill out 1958 federal income tax return, muses Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. But, of course, it doesn't pay to do this.

When you read in the paper about John Doe being worth a few million dollars, you can bet that he didn't forget about his income tax except on April 15.

The amount of income tax that you pay every year depends upon your business planning. If you want to avoid paying a lot of income taxes, you simply determine how much tax a business trans-

J. S. DEAN, long time resident of the McCauley and Hamlin communities, this week left with his wife to make their home in Fort Worth after more than a third of a century of residence in this area. They will be near two sons and a daughter who have lived in Cowntown for several years.

Dean, who as a builder and contractor, erected many of the business houses, industrial buildings and homes in this section, leaves his mark upon the community. No less a heritage will be his scores of friends he has made through the years.

As he prepared to leave for his new home, Dean ordered The Herald delivered at his new address at 4549 Houghton Street in Fort Worth. He has been a subscriber for a long time.

"We hate to leave Hamlin and our friends here," Dean declared, "but we want to be near our children and grandchildren."

A HAMLIN MAN who had only a few months of married life behind him had been giving his spouse some pointers about managing money and kindred subjects.

"I'm glad you're so impressed, dear, by all these explanations I have been giving you about banking and economics," remarked the young husband.

"Yes, darling. It seems wonderful that anybody could know as much as you do about money without having a y."

CHARLIE PAXTON, who has made Sweetwater his home for humpteen years, where he has been mixed up in civic affairs for years, while also being manager of the Gulf refinery that closed several months ago, continues to share his part of the load of community projects.

He was the officiating principal at installation of new officers last Wednesday noon at the Rotary Club shindig.

Charlie, before installing the new officials, commented that he was having a time living with his wife since she became a member of the grand jury recently for the Nolan County district court.

"She's so taken with her work," Charlie said, "that she's actually been out soliciting business for the grand jury to take up."

WHAT IS A BOY? He is a person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is to sit right where you are sitting, and attend to those things you think so important—when you are gone.

You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends upon him even if you make leagues and treaties, he will have to manage them.

He is going to sit at your desk in the Senate and occupy your bench on the Supreme Court. He will assume control of your cities, states and nation. He is going to move in, take over your prisons, churches, schools, universities and corporations.

All your work is going to be judged and praised or condemned by him. Your reputation and your future are in his hands. All your work is for him, and the fate of the nation and of humanity is in his hand.

So, it might be well to pay him some attention.

REV. VICTOR ORTIZ, who is doing a splendid work with the Latin Americans of the Hamlin community as pastor of the Mexican Baptist Mission of the First Baptist Church, has had a hectic and very interesting life, it was revealed last Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club, when he spoke of the program feature.

"My limited schooling in my childhood days," pointed out Vic, "was due to a number of factors. My parents had no schooling whatever, could neither read nor write, and naturally were little interested in seeing that their children were educated. At Sabinal in South Central West Texas, I remember going to school with Paul Kelly, congressman from that area. We had many experiences together."

Rev. Ortiz, after giving his six children college educations, himself reentered school when he was 49 years of age and finished Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Berkeley, California.

Election Ballot for County Is Prepared

Primary election ballot for Jones County voters for the July 26 election was set up last week by the Democratic executive committee, and absentee balloting already is underway.

There are three contested races on the county level, being in the races for county clerk, district clerk and justice of the peace for Precinct No. 1 (Anson). Also on the district level a contested race for state representative from the 85th District appears.

Order of the ballot as established by the executive committee is as follows: (with no uncontested state races being listed):

- For Governor—W. Lee O'Daniel, Joe A. Irvin, Henry B. Gonzalez and Price Daniel.
- For Lieutenant Governor—Ben Ramsey and George Nokes.
- For U. S. Senator—Ralph Yarborough and William A. Blakley.
- For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1—Robert W. Hamilton, Wilmer B. Hunt and J. Edwin Smith.
- For Associate Justice, Place 4—Sarah T. Hughes and Joe Greenhill.
- For Commissioner of the General Land Office—L. J. Dimmitt and Bill Alcorn.
- For Commissioner of Agriculture—John C. White, Tom Griffin and Glenn H. Kothmann.
- For Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, 11th District—Clyde Grisom.
- For Associate Justice, 11th Court for Austin, where she will attend a planning meeting of the executive group Friday.
- Mrs. Hackley is an official in the Jones County TB Association. The Austin meeting will make plans for the state unit for the coming year.

Mrs. Hackley Goes to State TB Unit Session

Mrs. A. A. Hackley of Hamlin, a member of the board of directors of the Texas State Tuberculosis Association, will leave today for Austin, where she will attend a planning meeting of the executive group Friday.

Mrs. Hackley is an official in the Jones County TB Association. The Austin meeting will make plans for the state unit for the coming year.

Hubert Mortons, Injured in Wreck, Remain Critical

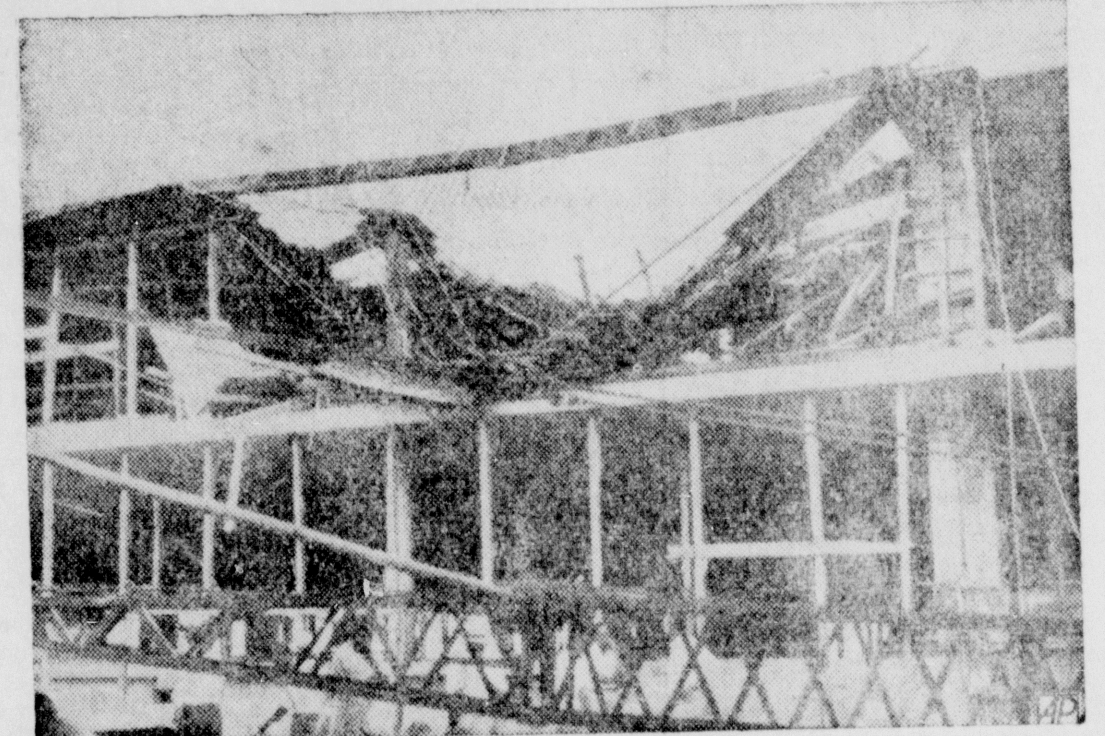

Condition of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Morton of Arlington, former Hamlin residents who were injured Sunday afternoon in an auto accident between Breckenridge and Palo Pinto, continued critical at press time for The Herald Wednesday morning, a check with relatives revealed.

Morton sustained a broken jaw (in two places) and an injured knee cap and internal injuries. His wife sustained severe head injuries and was still unconscious Wednesday morning. Their son, 13 years old, was not injured.

The Mortons were returning to their home Sunday afternoon after having attended a Morton family reunion at Lueders Saturday. As their 1958 Ford sedan approached the Stephens-Palo Pinto County line east of Breckenridge a pickup truck pulling another car swerved across the highway and the Morton car crashed into them.

Mrs. Morton was taken to a Breckenridge hospital by an ambulance from that city. Morton was taken to a Mineral Wells hospital by relatives when were traveling some distance behind the Morton car.

The accident occurred about a mile from the site of an accident that in November, 1954, took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morton of Hamlin, parents of Hubert Morton.

FORTY TONS OF CONCRETE—That's the amount contractors estimated poured down on three workmen at the new Sam Houston School at San Antonio. Two men, Jerry E. Hollingsworth, 26, of La Vernia, and Edward Carolan, 32, of San Antonio, were killed.

Fellowship Dinner Slated Thursday For H-SU Friends

A fellowship dinner and reunion of ex-students and friends of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene for residents of the Hamlin section will be held at the oil mill guest house at Hamlin this (Thursday) evening beginning at 7:00 o'clock. It has been announced by trustees of the university.

Designed to familiarize the exes and friends of H-SU with broad new plans for the school, the reception and dinner will feature several officials of the university. Wayne Evans, E. W. Ledbetter, Sammy Baugh and Dr. Rupert N. Richardson are scheduled to speak following the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May have been arranging the gathering. May is a trustee of H-SU.

Rev. Calvin Bailey, pastor of the Hamlin First Baptist Church, will give the invocation.

People from Haskell, Anson, Aspermont, Stamford, Lueders and Hamlin have indicated they will be present for the occasion, Mrs. May reports.

FORMER MAYOR of Hamlin and farm operator, Joe L. Culbertson died early last Thursday morning at his home in North Hamlin following a heart attack suffered the previous day. A story about Culbertson is being printed in today's Herald.

Goat May Be Added To Lions Membership As Attendance Gags

A special membership in the Hamlin Lions Club will be awarded to a four-legged member within a few days—probably a billy goat—it was announced at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the civic club at the regular weekly luncheon session at the oil mill guest house.

The new member, declared new President Stan Sheppard, will be used to help attendance at the weekly meetings. From the list of absentees each week a name will be drawn to determine which Lion will entertain Billy during the following week.

A good financial report was made by retiring Treasurer George Campbell for the year ended June 30. Several projects are being planned to utilize some of the funds, Sheppard said.

Guest at the Tuesday luncheon was Chuck Atwell of Abilene.

Hamlin People Will Attend Rotan Rodeo

Numbers of Hamlin area people are scheduled to attend the first annual Fisher County Sheriff's Posse Junior Rodeo at Rotan this week-end. The show opens this (Thursday) evening and continues through Saturday evening with night shows.

The show is approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association, and points compiled in the rodeo will be counted toward the final championship in the different events, it is announced.

Opening feature of the rodeo will be a parade at 5:00 p. m. Thursday afternoon.

Farmers of Hamlin Area Show Good Interest in Cotton Insect Control Work

There was good attendance of Hamlin area cotton farmers at the first cotton insect control short course offered by the vocational agriculture department of Hamlin High School cooperating with the agriculture education department of Texas A. & M. College, meeting Monday evening at the VA building, reports Claude Blankinship, VA teacher.

The meeting was under the direction of Blankinship. Explanation of the agricultural specialist program was made by E. L. Tiner, coordinator from the agriculture education department of Texas A. & M. In general the program is furnishing assistance to farmers through the Texas Education Agency cooperating with Texas A. & M. College working with local vocational agriculture teachers throughout Texas. It is a relatively new program promising valuable assistance of on-the-spot education to farmers.

Keen interest was shown by Hamlin area farmers at the first meeting. H. A. Turney, entomology specialist from A. & M., showed color slides and fresh specimens of both harmful and beneficial cotton insects. Details of identification, life cycles and habits of these cotton insects were discussed. Much interesting discussion centered around damages and control of harmful cotton insects in this area.

In a preliminary field inspection made Monday by Turney, Tiner and Blankinship in cotton fields of Bill Matchett and Orville Buntin, north of Hamlin, very few harmful insects were found. However, a fairly heavy infestation of cotton bollworms was found in

Biggest Rainfall To Three Inches In Hanna Section

Row crops in the Hamlin territory took a new lease on life over the week-end as showers measuring up to three inches fell upon thirsty cotton and maize. But, as is usually the case in this West Texas area, the crops need more rain.

After two or three days of cloudy, threatening weather, the refreshing showers came Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Best rains were in the Hanna section southeast of Hamlin, where three inches was reported. Cotton and feed rows were standing in water for several hours following the downpour.

Radium and Nelda communities southeast and south of town reported from three-quarters to an inch.

Virgil Steele near McCauley reported two-tenths of an inch. W. R. Townsend at Hinton reported half an inch. T. & P. camp northwest of town reported an inch and a half. Sigmund Stovall and Johnny Hines northeast of Hamlin said they received over an inch.

Dove, Tuxedo and Plainview areas east and southeast of town had about an inch.

Official government gauge at the city pump station in Hamlin registered .43 of an inch, according to Bill Rountree, city superintendent.

Ten Hamlin Scouts Attending Philmont Ranch Outdoor Camp

Ten Hamlin Boy Scouts, one from Aspermont, and Scout leaders from both cities are among scores of Scouts and Scouters at the annual Philmont Boy Scout Ranch in Northwestern New Mexico this week. The group left Sunday, and the camp continues through July 17.

Boys making the trip are Bob Johnson, Ray Johnson Jr., Jerry Duncan, Jimmy Shivers, Santana Contreras, Jerry Smith, Jimmy Cooper, Bill Richey, Henry O'Neal and John Ferguson, all of Hamlin, and Wesley Duncan of Aspermont. Accompanying the boys are Wellington Johnson, Hamlin Scoutmaster, and Carl Duncan, Scoutmaster at Aspermont.

Philmont Scout Ranch was given to Boy Scouts of the Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado areas several years ago by J. W. Phillips, executive of the Phillips Petroleum Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Elmer Feagan Shoots Hole-in-One Monday

Elmer Feagan, amiable Conoco agent for Hamlin territory, after some 20 years of golfing, Monday afternoon finally became as good a golfer as Mrs. Joe League.

While playing a round with Chuck Abbott and Allen Ford, Feagan approached hole No. 8 as sedately as he could, took out a No. 7 iron and smashed the golf ball confidently. His companions oohed and aahed as they approached the green to learn that the ball was nowhere to be found—except in the cup.

Elmer thus became the second person to make a hole-in-one on the Lakeview Golf Club course. Mrs. Joe League did the same on the same hole two years ago.

Early Moisture Fast Diminishes As Days Warming

After being spoiled again by the good rainfall of last year at this time after seven years of drought, the Hamlin section is being chalked up as a dry country for the first six months of 1958. Only 9.15 inches of rain had been recorded at the U. S. government gauge at the city pump station for the period ending June, according to Bill Rountree, gauger for the area.

The 9.15 inches is less than one-half of the rainfall of 1910 inches recorded through June in 1957, and a little less than the six-month average rainfall for the past 10 years. Since the government gauge has been maintained at Hamlin beginning in 1942, the average rainfall of the first six months is 9.82 inches, so taken as a long term gauge the precipitation has been nearly normal this year.

By months the rainfall this year has been: January, 1.12; February, 1.05; March, 1.14; April, 2.10; May, 3.18; and June, .56 of an inch.

In checking the rainfall table printed in today's Herald, it is observed that, while January and February rainfall this year was above the 17-year average, March, April, May and June have been below the average. This situation, of course, means that crops are hurting for needed growing and developing moisture. Head grains especially are feeling the pinch of hot, dry days, farmers will tell you.

Last year's rainfall total of 29.16 inches, biggest year recorded by the government gauge here, gave plenty of early moisture for crops, making the biggest wheat crop in area history, this year's rainfall has been abnormal when compared with most of the rest of the state. In fact, flooding conditions have persisted in much of South and East Texas during the past several weeks.

Cemetery Working Slated at McCauley

An all-day community working of the McCauley Cemetery will be conducted next Tuesday, July 15, according to Mrs. Ted Abbott, secretary of the McCauley Cemetery Association.

Relatives and friends of those who are buried in the cemetery are urged to participate in the working. They will please bring their own tools and a basket lunch which will be spread at the noon hour, it is announced.

Who's New This Week

Only one new citizen has been recorded at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital since last week's report in The Herald. The new arrival is:

A girl for Mr. and Mrs. Windell Barrett of Big Spring, who arrived July 3. Weighing a light six pounds 14 ounces, the little miss has been dubbed Charlotte Ann.

MECHANIZATION REQUIRES BIG FARMER STAKE

It costs a lot of money to farm during these days of mechanization, as any farmer during recent years can testify.

Efficiency is the key to profitable farm production, points out W. L. Ulich, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He says in a year-end summary, covering farm power and machinery, that Texas farmers are now using approximately 300,000 tractors and more than 2,500,000 allied farm implements in order to gain the advantages of efficient mechanized farm production.

Mechanized farming, his report shows, requires tremendous capital investments. In addition to over a billion dollars invested in equipment, Texas farmers spend approximately $95,000,000 annually for petroleum products and $75,000,000 for farm equipment repairs. The total cost of operating and maintaining this great array of mechanized equipment represents slightly more than one-third of crop production costs. Because of improper adjustments and maintenance and failure to give serious consideration to farm machinery selection problems, the farmers profits each year are drastically reduced, he says.

In a determined effort to reduce these losses, the specialist reports that farm machinery training schools and field days were used to good advantage for passing on to farmers educational information. County extension agents in 163 counties with assistance from 640 trained leaders conducted farm machinery conservation programs. During the past year county agents held 124 county-wide machinery training schools, while more than 36,000 farmers received assistance on farm power and machinery problems by attending educational meetings. Too, report Ulich, more than 21,000 farmers carried out machinery maintenance recommendations.

During the past year more than 5,400 4-H Club boys were enrolled in the tractor maintenance demonstration program. The leaders who directed the local clubs were trained in district schools and were supplied manuals and other materials for use in connection with this maintenance program.

Welding schools for farmers were conducted in 16 counties during the past year with 312 participants. Too, approximately 16,800 pieces of home-made equipment were constructed from plans supplied by the Extension Service.

Good Year to Buy a House

This is a good year to buy a house, say the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine—prices are easing up, financing is not difficult, and down payments are smaller.

Mortgage money is waiting for borrowers, and banks, insurance companies and building and loan associations are looking for home buyers. If you are a good risk, and the house you want is a prudent choice, expect little trouble in getting terms favorable to you.

In many areas interest rates on mortgages are dropping from the six per cent of a few months back to five or five and one-half per cent, reflecting this pile-up of idle mortgage funds. If you hold one of the earlier high interest mortgages, this is the time to consider refinancing.

Down payments on both high and low priced homes will be smaller, and if you buy an FHA insured home you may be able to get more house for a smaller down payment.

Design trends for new houses will aim generally at providing more space and cutting down on expensive extras, such as intercom systems, which drove house prices up in recent years. Many builders, too, are building fewer expensive homes and more homes with lower price tags.

Older houses also will be good buys this year. Owners are more anxious to sell now that business is slackening, and if you are willing to haggle long enough, you may be able to cut a few thousand dollars from the asking price.

RECALLING Other Years

★ Being news items taken from old files of Your Home - Town Newspaper, The Herald.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Goings-on in the Hamlin community 30 years ago included the following, being news briefs taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 20, 1928:

Mrs. J. O. Franks underwent serious surgery Tuesday in the Alexander Sanitarium at Abilene and is doing nicely.

Four Hamlin boys, Corporal Albert T. McCluskey and Buck Privates Frank Anderson, Travis Conner and "Speck" McCluskey are doing duty as National Guardsmen at Camp Palacios this week.

Red stop signals have been installed this week near the Morgan Hotel and at the Stamford highway intersection.

Will A. Parker and little daughter, Louise, returned last week from Celina, Collin County, where they had gone to visit his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Beril Lacy returned Tuesday from Ruidoso Springs and Carlsbad, New Mexico, where they spent a week's vacation.

Royce Goodwin, Arlie Cassle and Coy McGee left Thursday for a 15-day outing in New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Items of interest in the news 20 years ago at Hamlin included the following, reproduced from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 8, 1938:

Stockholders, officers and employees of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank enjoyed a picnic at the Hamlin West Lake last Friday. Previously the stockholders met at the bank and elected the following officers: J. W. Ezell, president; W. J. Bryant, vice president; Tate May, active vice president; W. C. (Ted) Russell, cashier.

Rev. J. W. Griffin left last Saturday for Dexter, New Mexico, where he will conduct a revival meeting. While there he will visit in the home of a sister, Mrs. W. S. Morgan.

W. B. Gist, painter of Aspermont, was killed and burned about 2:30 Sunday morning at the Katy depot in North Hamlin when his car ran into the Katy freight train.

Marie Akers left Friday for Kerrville, where she will spend her vacation at Camp Mystic.

TEN YEARS AGO.

From the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 16, 1948, the following news briefs of 10 years ago are reprinted:

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Hargrove and children visited friends and relatives at Cross Plains last weekend.

In the official statement of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at close of business June 30, 1948, deposits were totaled at $3,468,992.55.

Marilyn Smith of Stamford and Don Edward Petty of Hamlin repeated marriage vows Saturday at the Anson First Baptist Church.

Additional rains, totaling 2.71 inches since last Saturday, raised the water level in the Hamlin South Lake to within seven inches of the spillway, according to Bill Rountree, city water superintendent. This is about 14 months' supply for city water.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Files of five years ago reveal the following news items of the community five years ago, taken from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated July 17, 1953:

Deposits at the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at the close of business on June 30, 1953, totaled $4,350,107.25, according to the official statement.

New officers have been elected for the coming year by members of the Hamlin High School chapter of Future Farmers of America as follows: Jackie Drummond, president; Paige Balza, secretary; Holly Toler, treasurer; Lavere Wilson, reporter; Boyce Irwin, historian; and Dawl Johnson, sentinel.

First water for city use in Hamlin from the new Paint Creek Lake will be turned on August 1, according to Mac Brundage, mayor.

ONE YEAR AGO.

News events in the area of one year ago included the following, reprinted from the issue of The Herald dated July 11, 1957:

Cotton in the territory is doing fair, despite the need of moisture, but grains are hurting in face of the continuing drought.

Mrs. Bill Matchett, living two miles north of town, discovered a big rattlesnake under her sink at the home Saturday morning. City Policeman Jess Miller and A. Hudson, who went to her aid after a phone call, killed the critter with garden hoses.

SACK SWIM SUIT—An abandoned burlap bag which once held potatoes furnished shapely Barbara Palkebusch, 20, of Alice the material for this stylish sack swim suit. Seen at an Alice pool, the suit was a welcome addition to the line of feminine "sack" fashions.

Estimated 274 of County Men Leave Services in 1957

An estimated 274 Jones County men and women left active duty in the armed forces in 1957 while probably 140 were entering.

Number of Texans leaving active duty in the armed forces in 1957 far exceeded those entering, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday.

A total of 62,916 was discharged or transferred to reserve status during the past year, according to reports of discharge and transfer received by state selective service headquarters from the armed forces.

During the same year, state selective service headquarters received reports showing that 33,317 Texans entered the armed forces. Of this number 26,047 entered by volunteering and 7,270 were drafted.

"Actually, a good many of those who go in through the draft board enter service by voluntary action," Colonel Schwartz pointed out. "The draft law permits volunteering through a local board."

Selective service in Texas forwarded 16,645 men for pre-induction mental and physical examinations during 1957, state headquarters records reveal. Of this number, 10,077 were designated acceptable for service by the Army and 6,568 were rejected.

During 1957 the state's 137 draft boards registered 64,149 males, most of them 18-year-olds. Federal laws requires males to register at age 18 or within five days thereafter.

Under present regulations, no one is drafted until age 22 except those who volunteer; but registration is mandatory at 18. Texas has 1,053,000 males registered. Of this number, boards have classified more than 996,000.

Old Glory School Sets Initial Homecoming

First homecoming for all students, ex-students and teachers of Old Glory and schools (Hooker, New Hope, Brandenburg, Tonk Creek and Mount Zion) that have consolidated with Old Glory, will be held Sunday, August 31, it is announced by sponsors of the get-together.

Anyone having attended one of these schools, and who has not received an invitation, is asked to contact one of the following: Mrs. Polly Baitz, Mrs. Lillian Garner, Mrs. Odene Spitzer or Mrs. Euna Jones by July 20.

Most people are a little smarter than they seem.

Hamlin Territory Is Becoming More Interested in Water as Vital Necessity

More and more people of the nation, and West Texas in particular, are realizing the importance of water to their domestic, industrial and recreational needs.

Hamlin area people, because of the gyp content of much of the below-surface water, have realized this for years. In recent years Hamlin has been cramped for its water—even to the point of having water shipped in by railway cars several months before Paint Creek Lake was built.

Even now new interest is being shown in possibilities of reservoirs on the upper stretches of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River north and northwest of Hamlin.

Although the Brazos River watershed covers one-sixth of the area of Texas and one-sixth of its population, it contains only one-tenth of the state's industry, according to a study just completed by the research section of the Brazos River Authority.

Basis of the study was number of employees of manufacturing plants according to 1956 figures, the latest firm data available. Texas as a whole had 524,193 workers in manufacturing plants, of whom 52,213—or 9.96 per cent—were employed in the 65 counties that lie wholly or in part in the Brazos watershed.

The Brazos River Authority also queried Chambers of Commerce, in the watershed and close by, concerning the status of industry in their areas. The chamber managers unanimously declared that their cities had lost no industries for lack of water, even during the drought. But they were divided as to whether the water problem had kept new industries from moving into the Brazos watershed.

Several chambers reported that they had failed to win new industries because of the uncertainty of local water supplies, and others said that currently certain industries were hesitating to move into the area for the same reason. Various chambers estimated that assured supply of good quality water might bring in enough new industry to increase their populations by 50 to 1,000 per cent.

"Additional reservoirs on the Brazos and its main tributaries can provide the assured water supply that industry wants before it locates here," said J. H. Kuitgen of Waco, president of the Brazos River Authority. "Our long range plan of development provides for enough water to serve greatly growing cities and industries while at the same time supplying more water than ever for agriculture. There is enough water in the Brazos to serve all these needs if we can agree on where to build the lakes to store it for dry periods."

MAKING YOUR OWN RULES.

Somebody once remarked to Will Rogers that Webster spoke perfect English.

"Shucks," snorted Rogers in his own inimitable way, "if I wrote my own dictionary, so could I."

There is only one way to make an honest dollar.

FINALLY IDENTIFIED.

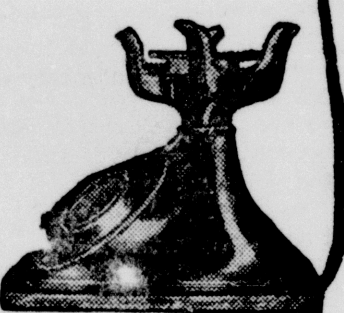

In a crowded bus one day a fellow was surprised when the attractive young lady across the aisle smiled at him. And his face turned a bright shade of red when in a pleasant but loud voice, she asked, "Are you the father of two of my children?"

"Why, well—that is, I'm not sure. I mean I don't know." "I'm quite sure you are," she said. "I teach fourth grade at Washington School."

Colorado City Man Will Be Fairview Revival Preacher

Fairview Baptist Church, seven miles southeast of Hamlin, will begin its summer revival Friday night, July 11. Rev. A. C. Hester of Colorado City will do the preaching, according to Rev. M. E. Randolph of Abilene, pastor of the church.

Although it was not one of the goals in the rural church achievement program for 1958, the congregation is happy to announce the installation of a cooling system. This was made possible by the donation of two coolers by Bill Foster of Hamlin and an indefinite loan of a large tank and stand by John Beauchamp, one of the members.

The church's heart-felt thanks go to Foster and Beauchamp for making it possible to meet and serve the Lord in a cool, comfortable atmosphere. They also invite all of their friends to attend the revival to hear some good preaching, good singing and meet some friendly people and be comfortable even though the weather is hot.

Recently carpets were laid in the aisles and across the front of the house. These were purchased out of the Mother Abby memorial fund, established in memory of Mrs. E. A. Isbill, the last charter member, who passed away last October.

Last spring the pews in the church were repaired and stained. Fairview church was established in 1888 and is one of the few remaining rural churches of the area.

Visiting Quartets to Feature Sunday Sing

At least two out-of-city quartets are scheduled to be featured at the regular Jones and Fisher County singing, scheduled Sunday afternoon at the Hamlin Four-square Gospel Church, it was announced this week by sponsors of the singing.

Festivities will get underway at 2:00 o'clock to which the public is invited, say the sponsors.

WEDDING IN JAIL—Ted Daniel (left) and Frankie Koepf were married by Rev. W. W. Stogner (right) in the Dallas County jail following a romance that began and ended in the jail. Ted, serving a three-year sentence for car theft, met Frankie as she was booked on a bad check charge, three weeks ago. Frankie was released on bond but was re-arrested on more bad check charges when she appeared for the wedding.

Complacency Can Sap Growth of Area, Felker Tells Rotary Meeting Crowd

"Like plant root rot, complacency about our community's welfare and progress saps the growth of a town," declared Rex Felker, manager of the Quanah Chamber of Commerce, when he was the principal speaker at the special officer installation program of the Hamlin Rotary Club at the oil mill guest house last Wednesday noon.

Felker, native of Haskell and former featured performer with the famous Cowboy Band of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, pointed out what community spirit can do for any town that wants to grow. He cited recent accomplishments of his home town of Quanah in securing industries and promoting area activities through the Chamber of Commerce. "You are the community," he declared, "and as you boost or criticize, so will your community grow or wither away."

Officers for the new club year beginning July 1 were installed by Charlie Paxton, former district governor of Rotary International, of Sweetwater. Installed were: John W. Howard Jr., president; Gene Prewitt, vice president; Tommy Davis, secretary-treasurer; Earl Smith, R. L. McClung, C. F. Cook and Rev. Edmund Robb (absent), directors.

Retiring President L. E. (Gene) Prewitt, presiding at the opening of the banquet that attracted nearly 100 Rotarians, their wives and invited guests, reviewed accomplishments of the club during the past year. Among guests were officials of local civic and women's clubs, who were invited to hear the "My Home Town" address of Felker on community building.

Among out-of-town guests, besides the wives of Felker and Paxton, were Kirby Clayton, new county agent, of Anson; Mrs. Richard Hinkle of Midland; Hershel McGlothlin, Frank Pruitt, Kathryn Duff and Don Hutcheson of Abilene; W. M. Blackburn of Stamford.

Tate May presented the speaker of the day, Felker.

Joe L. Culbertson, Ex-Mayor, Dies of Attack Thursday

Funeral services for Joe Lee Culbertson, 67-year-old former mayor of Hamlin and farm operator, who had been a resident of the community for 45 years, were conducted at the First Methodist church Friday morning.

Culbertson, who suffered a heart attack the previous day, succumbed early last Thursday morning at the family residence on North Central Avenue. He had been ailing for several days following the death about a month ago of his mother, however, his death was a surprise and a shock to his family.

Born October 19, 1890, in Ellis County, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Culbertson. He came to Hamlin in 1913 with his parents. He was a graduate of Texas A. & M. College. He married the former Blanche Via at Hamlin on December 31, 1922.

Culbertson had operated farms in the Hamlin section for several years, being one of the area's biggest wheat growers. He was active in civic affairs for many years, having been mayor of the city for several years. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge and a Shriner, being a member of Karen Temple of Waco, and a member of Hamlin Lions Club.

Conducting funeral services at the First Methodist Church Friday morning was Rev. Darris Egger, former pastor of the church, and Austin Siburt, minister of the Hamlin Church of Christ. (The Methodist pastor was in Washington, D. C., at the time of the funeral.)

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Joe Breeg of Anson, Rob Strayhorn of Rotin, Elmer Feagan, Bill Matchett, Arlie Cassle, B. M. Brundage, Holly Toler and Fred B. Moore Jr.

Surviving the deceased are his widow, Mrs. Joe Culbertson of Hamlin; two daughters, Mrs. Z. Edgar Boaz of Anson and Mrs. James E. Frisby of Denton; one brother, Marvin Culbertson of Vernon; two sisters, Mrs. Paul Fraser of Kerrville and Miss Vera Culbertson of Hamlin; and four grandchildren.

SHORT COURSE

maize fields adjoining cotton fields. (Also, corn patches) are heavily infested with the corn earworms, which are one and same harmful cotton bollworm.

A bright side of the picture is that the men found a good population of beneficial cotton insects. Turney, the A. & M. specialist, warned that farmers should not poison maize fields for control of cotton insects without first checking the maturity period on their maize, as they could easily poison their grain to the extent of making it poisonous and dangerous as feed for livestock and unsafe for public market.

Second meeting of area farmers attending the cotton insect short course was scheduled for Wednesday morning of this week. The group was to meet at the Hamlin VA building and go to cotton fields for inspection and study of cotton insects.

Final third and fourth meetings in the short course will be set for the latter part of July, perhaps between July 28 and 31, Blankinship stated.

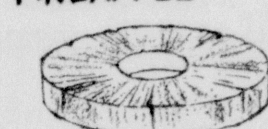

HE ALREADY KNOWS.

A salesman was trying to sell a set of books on scientific agriculture to a farmer in Iowa, and wasn't having any success.

"You ought to buy these, sir," urged the salesman. "With these books you could farm twice as good as you do now."

"Son," replied the old farmer, "I don't farm half as good as I know how now."

Safety in Home and on Farm Provides Topic for Good Neighbor Program

Safety in the home and farm safety was the subject for the program given by Mmes. L. A. Joiner and Dale Lain of the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club at the last meeting.

Highlights from the program included:

How safe is your home? Three goals should be worked toward by all in the family:

1. Recognize and correct hazards.

Asa Goodgame Will Marry New Mexico Girl on August 30

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Phillips Jr. of Deming, New Mexico, have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Ruth Ann, to Asa Goodgame, son of Mrs. Opal Goodgame of Hamlin.

The couple will be married on Saturday, August 30, in the First Methodist Church in Deming.

Ann Bounds of Alpine has been named maid-of-honor, and Bill Sutherland of Hamlin will be best man. Ushering will be Jerry Carr of Hamlin and Shelby Phillips III of Deming.

Miss Phillips is a graduate of Stephens College of Columbia, Missouri, and Texas Christian University of Fort Worth as well as Harris College of Nursing. Her fiancé attended Texas A. & M. College at College Station and is present a student at TCU.

ards. Be ready to deal properly with an accident if it should occur.

2. Each family member learn and use safe working habits and safe living habits.

3. Make your home a safe home. Our families should work together to keep our homes a safe place to live.

Look around you; each room of the home should be checked for hazards that might cause accidents.

On the farm accidents are great, but with a little care most of these could be eliminated.

a. Never refuel a tractor with the motor running.

b. Unguarded saws.

c. Sharp tools on the ground.

d. Keep vicious animals in safe corals.

e. Don't smoke in or near barn.

f. Don't let children ride on tractors or equipment.

These are only a few don'ts for safety on the farm.

The council delegate, Mrs. J. E. McCoy, gave the council report. She announced that a member of the Good Neighbor club, Mrs. Elmer Joiner, was elected as a delegate to the Home Demonstration Association state convention, to be held at Austin August 13.

Mmes. Dale Lain and Sam Hodges served refreshments to Mmes. Elmer Joiner, J. E. McCoy, A. A. Smith, Noel Weaver, L. A. Joiner, Dwain Stephens and James Brown.

BRIDE-TO-BE of Asa Goodgame of Hamlin is Ruth Ann Phillips (above) of Deming, New Mexico. The wedding date has been set for Saturday, August 30 at the First Methodist Church in Deming.

Donnie Sanderlin and S. C. Adair Married in Home Ceremony

Last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock Donnie Sanderlin and S. C. Adair were married in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Townsend of the Hinson community.

James Townsend of Denver City was best man, and Mrs. Townsend was matron-of-honor.

Robin and Rheana Sanderlin were candle-lighters.

Rev. J. H. Potter, pastor of the Sylvester Baptist Church, officiated in the double ring ceremony. Only relatives and close friends attended the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Sellers Beauty School of Fort Worth and also of Abilene Beauty School. For the past four years she has been an employee as a beautician in the Cactus Beauty Shop.

Adair is the son of Mrs. Dollie B. Adair of Brownfield, and is a stock farmer in the Sylvester community.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served by Mrs. I. D. Miller, Mrs. G. A. Daniel and Mrs. W. R. Townsend to the wedding attendants.

A bargain is something you cannot use at a price you cannot resist.

Sandra Faye Stuart To Be Wed August 23 To Sonny Winegeart

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Stuart of 29 Southwest Avenue E, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Faye, to George Edward (Sonny) Winegeart, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Winegeart, 734 Southwest Second Street.

The couple will exchange wedding vows at 7:00 p. m. on Saturday, August 23, in the Hamlin Church of Christ.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Hamlin High School, and her fiancé also is a Hamlin High School graduate. He has attended one year at Tarleton State College in Stephenville and is planning to go to Lubbock Christian College this fall.

First Baptist Women In Business Session

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met last Monday afternoon at the church for a business meeting and devotional period.

Mrs. Edgar Duncan presided during the business session. Reports of officers and committee chairmen were given, and plans for the month were outlined.

Mrs. D. W. Stell gave the devotional on "Gratitude." Mrs. C. R. Lovell concluded the program with "The Spiritual Tonic."

Special prayers were offered for the sick and bereaved of the community and for missionaries having birthdays that day.

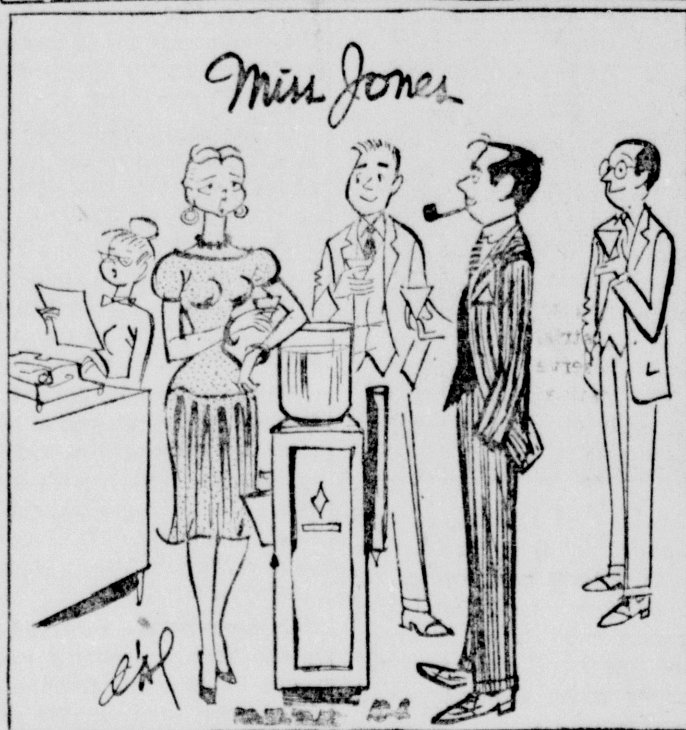

Maggie Seymore Attends B&PW Meet

Maggie Mae Seymore, member of the Hamlin Business and Professional Women's Club and a teacher in Hamlin public schools, is attending the biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Seattle, Washington, this week. The convention opened Friday and will continue through Sunday.

Miss Seymore is vacationing with relatives and friends in Seattle, and will take advantage of several side trips offered by the convention.

Mary Lou Maberry And Ronald Rowland To Wed August 9

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mary Lou Maberry to Donald Richard Rowland is being made by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kyle Maberry of McCaulley. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brad Rowland Sr. of Hamlin.

Wedding date has been set by the young couple for 8:00 p. m. on Saturday, August 9, at the First Methodist Church in Hamlin. Rev. James Pickens of Abilene will officiate.

The bride-elect is a graduate of McCaulley High School and Texas Technological College at Lubbock. She also attended Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She taught the past year in Lamesa High School.

Young Rowland is a graduate of Hamlin High School and McMurry College at Abilene, where he was a member of Kiva social club and the Chanters. He is employed as a teacher in Lamesa High School also.

Alathean SS Class Meets Thursday in Cunningham Home

Members of the Alathean Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. L. J. Cunningham for their regular social meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Harvey Elkins, Joe League, Carl Green, O. R. Riddell, John Howard Jr., H. S. Stovall, Gene Prewitt, Doc Sims, J. C. Turner, B. O. Bell, members; Mrs. Tate May, class teacher; the hostess, Mrs. L. J. Cunningham; and a visitor, Mrs. Inez Howard Fields of Lancaster, California.

Mrs. Joe League opened the meeting with a prayer, which preceded an interesting lesson on the Book of Ruth by Mrs. Tate May. Mrs. Doc Sims dismissed the meeting with prayer.

Sixteen Hamlin Girls Go to Area GA Camp

Sixteen girls from the First Baptist Church and four adult leaders were among the more than 600 attendants last week at the annual District 17 Girls' Auxiliary camp at Lueders.

Girls making the camp were Marilyn and Carolyn Reynolds, Anne and Lynn Shelburne, Connie Jo Duncan, Mary Lois Patterson, Mary Fitzgerald, Jeannette Green, Lynn Ann Miller, Rose Lovell, Mary Margaret Turner, Mary Ann Elkins, Rheana Sanderlin, Linda Legan, Christie Wallace and Sue Johnson.

Adults leaders accompanying the girls were Mmes. Edgar Duncan, Frank Legan, Charles Lovell and H. D. Lain.

Johnston-Parker Rites Read at —

In a quiet wedding on Tuesday evening, June 22, Mrs. H. A. Johnston became the bride of J. I. Parker at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church. Officiating at the rituals was the pastor, Rev. Edmund W. Robb.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to the Rio Grande Valley and Corpus Christi.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin.—Mid-way through the so-called "recession year" of 1958 Texas economic forecasters are turning their eyes upward again. Statistical reports show steady improvement in overall business activity since the bleak lows of February and March. If the hoped-for pick-up in oil demand develops during the later half, analysts say, "1958 may be a good year after all."

Some of the bases for the current atmosphere of cautious optimism are these:

Bank Deposits.—Folks have lots of money in the banks; in most areas more than last year. Response to the Texas Banking Commission's mid-year call for condition higher deposits than last summer and some are at new record highs. Dallas County bank deposits increased by $333,000,000; Harris County (Houston) by more than $267,000,000 over a year ago. Towns with all-time high deposits were Amarillo, Midland, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Denon and Port Arthur.

Retail Sales.—Despite sales here and there, Texas retail sales are expected to run some seven per cent ahead of 1957, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Because of low months early in the year, sales volume for the first five months of 1958 were one per cent below the same period for 1957. But a late spring upsurge put May, 1958, sales ahead of those for May, 1957. Apparently Texans are concentrating on essentials. Compared to last year, farm implement sales were up 27 per cent, food up 11 per cent, autos down eight per cent.

Business Index.—BRR's latest report shows the 1958 level of general business activity four per cent below May, 1957. But May, 1957, was a dizzy pinnacle, the highest ever reached by the Texas business index. Since the low in March the index has made encouraging progress, pulling up by the tip-off, says BRR, as to whether recovery momentum is sufficient for a rise to a new crest.

Employment.—Although thousands more were out of work than a year ago, Texas Employment Commission's most recent overall survey showed a substantial shortening of the jobless lines. Like the general business index, employment seemed to be making a steady recovery from the early spring "trough." Number of unemployed dropped 4,200 during May, TEC reported, and non-farm employment rose to almost 3,000,000. Insured unemployment in Texas was only 4.1 per cent of the working force compared with the national average of 7.2 per cent.

Company Challenged.—A king size clash is in prospect July 15 between the State Insurance Department and National Bankers

Life Insurance Company of Dallas. Commissioner William A. Harrison has ordered the company to prove fitness of its management or lose its license.

National Bankers, regarded as one of the largest and most prosperous companies in the South-west, claims more than $19,000,000 in assets. Some $5,000,000 of these are discounted by the department as unsound or unsuitable for an insurance company. Specifically a number of mortgage loans made by the company to other firms in which the company's officers or directors have an interest.

Company President Lester F. Hall said the firm's financial footing is so sound it could raise $5,000,000 in a matter of hours. He said the company had a premium income of $10,000,000 last year and net earnings of some $1,000,000.

Glad to Move Over.—Despite the prospect of losing "biggest state" honors, Texas officials say they're happy to welcome Alaska as No. 49. Sample comments: Governor Price Daniel: "We will still have the biggest navy." Secretary of State Zollicoffer: "I'm glad another state will bear the brunt of the gags about being the largest state." Attorney General Will Wilson: "I suggest they nail down their off-shore lands before they enter the union."

Semi-Westward Ho!—Redesigned Texas tan uniforms have brought a new look to the Texas Highway Patrol. Semi-western in style, the uniforms sport black trim, black shoes, wide brimmed grey hats with western crease.

Only 380 patrolmen and other division members of the Department of Public Safety are outfitted at present. New uniforms for the rest of the force will have to wait for another appropriation from the Legislature.

Taxpayers Get Wary.—Slump in federal income tax collections in Texas the past several months has been noted by Internal Revenue Service officials.

Cause has been attributed to recession minded taxpayers lowering their estimates of income for the year. South Texas Collector Bob Phinney thinks, however, most will wind up making just as much money as last year.

Last year Texans paid a record breaking $2,600,000,000 in federal income taxes, about $128,000,000 more than in the year previous.

School Cost Climb Seen.—Texas counties expect cost of education to climb $70,000,000 annually in the next five years.

This was revealed in reports of 251 counties to the Hale-Aikin survey committee on public education. Most of the increase would go for expansions necessary to keep up with increasing enrollment.

Counties differed as to how the money should be raised. Twenty-five per cent favored higher local taxes or increased valuation. Forty-four per cent wanted additional money from the state. Nine counties favored federal aid. And 35 recommended a sales or income levy.

Short Snorts.—Walter Buckner, publisher of The San Marcos Record and past president of the Texas Press Association, has been named by Governor Daniel to the Industrial Accident Board. He will serve as the employer representative. The two other members of the board are Ned Price of Tyler, representing labor; and Leonard Carlton of Austin, representing employees. . . . A $20,500 grant for re-codifying Texas school laws has been provided by the M. D. Anderson Foundation of Houston. A legislative committee headed by Representative Robert H. Hughes of Dallas is in charge of the work. . . . Preliminary report on a comprehensive survey of Texas water resources has been submitted to Governor Daniel. It was requested by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson and prepared jointly by state and federal water agencies. Contents of the report will not be released for publication until final approval is given. . . . Farm experts expect that a 92-year-old record for cotton yield per acre may be topped this year. Second highest yield was recorded last year at 295 pounds. All-time high was 325 pounds per acre in 1886—when soil was virgin. . . . Governor Daniel has proclaimed July 14 to 20 as State Park Week to call attention to the 56-park unit begun in 1924 when Governor Pat Neff and his family donated Mother Neff Park to the state. . . . Texas draft quota for August will be 539 men, only one more than were called for in July. State selective service headquarters also announced that some 1,700 men are to take pre-induction exams in August.

VISIT FROM NEW MEXICO. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Currant and daughter of Albuquerque, New Mexico, were Sunday guests of the Bill Deal family. Also visiting in the Bill Deal home was Grover Stevens of Liberal, Kansas.

VISIT FROM ODESSA. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neill of Odessa are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bingham and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neill at Hamlin. The Odessa couple came in to The Herald office and renewed their subscription to Your Home Town Paper. They have been subscribers for 36 years, they declared.

Irene M. y. Daughter Of Truett Mays, Gets Scholarship for Essay

Irene May, granddaughter of Mrs. M. P. May of Hamlin, has received a $1,000 scholarship award offered annually by the Department of California, American Legion Auxiliary, for an Americanism essay.

Miss May, who lives at Salinas, California, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truett May. Her father, brother of Hamlin Banker Tate May, attended Hamlin-Simmons University and worked part time while in school at the Farmers & Merchants National Bank in Abilene. Truett May is now an auditor for the Henry J. Kaiser Industries at Salinas.

Miss May, 16, is a junior in high school and is a member of the California Scholarship Federation. Her essay won over 294 local entries, then went on to win in district and state competition.

SIMMONS TO NORTH.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Simmons left last week for a vacation in Minnesota, where Jimmy will fish in some of the famous 10,000 lakes of that northern state.

SWEETWATER VISITORS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carnes and son, Clifton Lee, of Sweetwater visited last week-end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cox.

VISIT MRS. COWAN.

Mrs. Sallie Hizer of Memphis, Tennessee, a cousin, and Mrs. John N. Grisham of Abilene, a sister, are house guests this week of Mrs. Florence Cowan.

It's okay to use friendship as a drawing account, but don't forget your deposits.

Jorja Blackmon of Shallowater, Texas, wears a two-piece dress which was judged the top cotton outfit in a statewide 4-H Dress Revue. Jorja both grows and sews cotton. She had a four-acre crop all her own in 1957.

In love of home, the love of country has its rise. — Charles Dickens.

Estimated Two from County Due to Be in August Draft Call

An estimated two from Jones County will be included in the August draft call for men to the service.

The state quota for Texas draft boards in August calls for 539 men, Connel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said Friday.

The state's August call of 539 compares with a quota of 538 in July, previously announced. The August call is the state's share of a national call of 10,000, all for the Army.

The state director of selective service also announced that approximately 1,700 men were scheduled to take pre-induction mental and physical examinations in August.

The August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, with exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Some reservists and National Guardsmen also may be called up if they fail to participate satisfactorily in their units.

Tips on Deductions For Farmers Aid at Income Filing Time

Hamlin area farmers are advised by Tax Man Sam that the county agent probably has a few 1958 "Farmer's Tax Guides" left over from 1957. Studying about taxes may not particularly appeal to you, but if you are going to sit on the front porch one of these days when it is too wet to plow the north 40, you might grow one or two profitable tax deductions by reading a copy of this free publication.

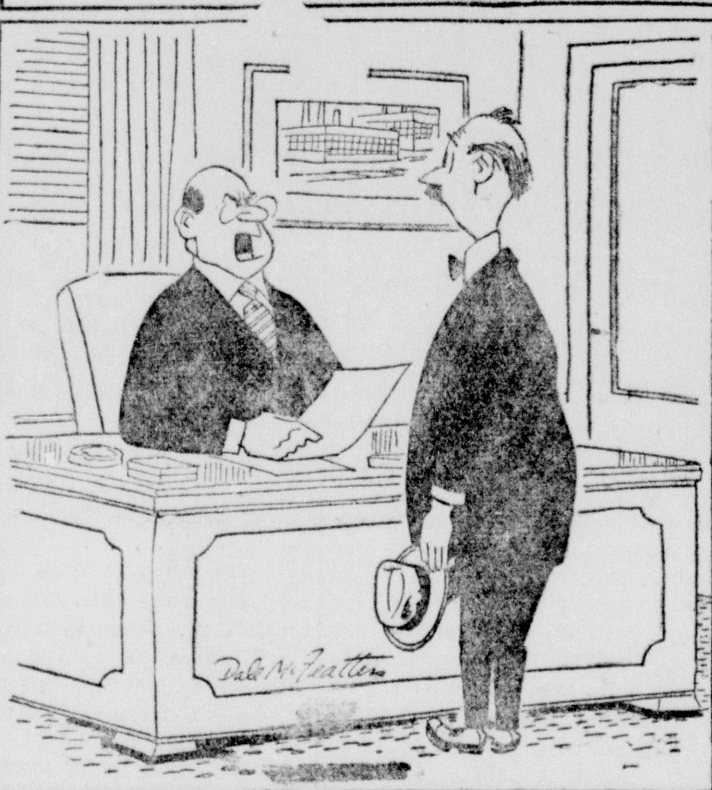

This booklet explains taxes in language that a dirt farmer can understand. If your county agent does not have this booklet, write to the Internal Revenue Service in Dallas or visit your local Internal Revenue Service office for this booklet.

We believe you will find that you have plowed through tougher things than reading this booklet. Let's hope that if you do plow through these tax problems, you will reap some good tax deductions.

Economy is in itself a source of great revenue.—Seneca.

Stepped-Up Shipments of Imported Beef Disturbing to Cattlemen in U. S.

Word received in Fort Worth this week is that stepped-up shipments of boned beef entering the United States on the West Coast have slowed down the operations of processors, in some cases 75 or 80 per cent, according to the weekly market summary of Ted Goudy, special market reporter for The Herald. His release continues: One spokesman said, "Even if cows were 10 cents a pound cheaper, it would not slow down the imports."

The meat is used primarily by canners and sausage makers. The Florida Cattlemen's Association recently passed a resolution demanding that imported meats be labeled plainly as such, so as to minimize competition with United States meat.

New Zealand newspapers are also claiming final arrangements have been made to ship 1,300 cattle from North Island, New Zealand, to San Diego, California. These reports indicate the Modern Imperial Cattle Company of California is expected to supervise the shipment, which will be the first shipment of feeders to the United States. United States tariff is 1.5 cents per pound.

Projected imports of live cattle had been talked some months ago but it was reported later the prospective importers had abandoned the notion.

Cattle trade was active and prices were generally fully steady at Fort Worth Monday. Fat steers and yearlings were highly uneven as some buyers showed little interest in the offering at current prices. However, the few lots that were on hand cleared without mishap.

Cows and bulls were active, and stocker and feeder classes of cattle and calves again enjoyed very broad demand. Choice fat calves were in small supply.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $24 to $27.50, a few higher. Common and medium grades sold from $17.50 to $24. Culls drew $14 to $17.

Medium and good stocker steer calves cashed at $24 to $30 and a few steer calves of lighter weights sold to $32. Stocker heifer calves of medium to good grades sold from $23 to $29. Medium to good stocker and feeder steers cashed at $22 to $26, and commoner quality sold from $18 to $21. Stocker heifers ranged from $24 downward.

High grade offerings were virtually lacking in the sheep barns at Fort Worth. Trade was active and prices fully steady Monday on all kinds, quality considered. Good to choice slaughter lambs cashed at $21 to $23 and cull to medium springers sold from $13 to $20. Good fat yearlings sold from $17 to $18, and cull to medium yearlings sold from $12 to $16. Aged wethers sold mostly from $10 to $12.50. Slaughter ewes sold from $6.50 to $7.50. Aged bucks sold around $6, and a few solid mouthed bucks sold to $9. Goats cashed at $7 to $7.25.

Hogs were steady, and choice butchers cashed at $24.25 to $24.50. Medium to good hogs cashed at $22 to $24. Sows sold mostly from $19 to $21.

U. S. Department of Agriculture offices in Fort Worth made available the June 15 parity rates this week. Beef cattle and calves were standing at 96 per cent of parity, hogs were at 98 per cent of parity, and lambs held at 82 per cent of parity. Wool was only 53 per cent of parity.

God Has Purpose For Every Life, Ortiz Tells Lions

"God has a purpose for every man's life," declared Rev. Victor Ortiz, pastor of the Mexican Baptist Mission in Hamlin, when he spoke last Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

The preacher, after recounting many of his early day experiences which he admitted were wicked and criminal, urged his hearers to let God have His way in their lives for good. "Make Him your partner in business; consult Him often through prayer."

Ortiz had a hectic life in his young manhood, he declared, recounting his moving from job to job, and his numerous brushes with the law. He farmed, worked at tree grubbing, in a rock quarry, steel mills, dairying and other places. While in jail—and he admitted he had spent many months in jails over the country—he was converted and called to preach in 1940.

Fred Boen, Hamlin service station operator, was installed as a new member of the Lions Club. He was initiated by E. A. Hewett, Lion tamer.

Besides Ortiz, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon were Kirby Clayton of Anson, county agent; J. H. Hefner of Stamford, E. G. Holcomb of Stamford and Leon Thurman of Anson.

Riots Are Not Typical of American Way, Observes Congressman Burleson

Since recorded history, riots have occurred among people all over the world, points out Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news letter to The Herald. He continues: In many countries today it is a national expression. Particularly in countries where people are of high emotional nature, it is an expression of political discontent. Especially is this true of student groups.

It is difficult for us to understand the influence of university students in this respect in Latin America. Student riots many times become the forerunner of revolution in one form or another.

Riots which have occurred in this country have been of a different nature. Largely, and almost without exception, they have been race riots spontaneously erupting. However, we now see what is called political demonstrations which could easily develop into political riots. In fact, a large group of Hungarian refugees demonstrating in front of the Soviet embassy in New York, in an attempt to destroy or damage the embassy property, resulted in the injury of a number of policemen.

In the past few years it has not been uncommon to see marchers parading up and down the streets outside the white house grounds. One look at the usual demonstrators immediately identifies the individuals as not being the usual American type, but rather some imported type. They are the ones who would injure American peace officers and destroy American property or that for which the United States is responsible.

It makes no difference as to who they are or for what purpose they are demonstrating, it is not the American way of doing things and would not occur were we not opening the doors to a lot of people who should not be permitted in this country.

Public Becoming Case Hardened to Fatal Accidents

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said this week that Texans are becoming "case hardened" to fatal traffic accidents. Accepting them as a part of routine news and not as state and national disasters.

The Galveston flood of 1900 with its 6,000 fatalities; the Texas coast hurricane of 1915 and 375 dead; the New London school explosion in 1937 costing 294 children their lives; Texas City's 550 dead in 1947; and the Waco tornado of five years ago with its toll of 114 lives—these represent some of Texas' worst disasters. They are headlines of yesterday and they won't soon be forgotten," Musick said.

"But the combined death toll (7,333) from these tragedies falls short of the 7,697 lives lost on Texas streets and highways in just the past three years.

"In fact, in the 20 years since the New London explosion, traffic smash-ups have claimed more than 40,000 lives in the Lone Star state. We are apparently becoming case hardened to reports of these motorcides, because we continue to tolerate them in spite of published, effective measures of accident prevention."

The safety expert was speaking in behalf of TSA's current slow-down-and-live campaign which is being conducted by the state-wide organization during summer's peak vacation months—and urges drivers to reduce their speed.

Musick said that speed was the contributing factor in 57 per cent of Texas' rural fatal accidents in 1957. Thus making the slow-down-and-live program a campaign that is directed at the heart of the traffic problem.

In all things it is better to hope than to despair.—Goethe.

Certainly, citizens have the right to protest their government's action in any way they see fit but not by force and violence. The American remedy against what they believe to be wrongful actions on the part of government officials or government policy is by voice and pen; by public or private conversation and by petition.

Mob action and the spirit of force and violence resulting in riot as about as un-American as can be. It violates the total concept of our system of government and gives reason for false propaganda to our enemies.

A Senate committee is now investigating the Mafia, an Italian criminal society organizing on the Island of Sicily. The inquiry particularly is directed as to how this criminal organization is infiltrating respectable organizations in the United States. By reports, it seems some senators are astounded that these alien gangsters have not been deported. As mentioned in this column some weeks ago, it is seemingly virtually impossible to deport an alien as long as he has money enough to stay in the courts. Furthermore, it seems he can get political help to remain here and engage in crime, which is costing the American taxpayer almost $12,000,000,000 a year.

At the same time, there are those who continue to promote government programs to admit people we call "refugees" and "escapees" who congregate in ghettos in the great cities to contribute to this unhealthy condition which is manifesting itself more and more.

SCHOOL TIME IN JUVENILE HOME—Mrs. Shirley Ryan, one of the two University of Corpus Christi education majors, who teaches at the county juvenile home at Corpus Christi, tells her class how laws are made and why individual citizens are expected to obey them. The experimental school has been praised by juvenile authorities as an aid in helping delinquent children make readjustments.

First Aid Can Be Administered in Most Cases by Qualified Member of Family

Every three seconds someone in the United States needs prompt first aid for an accident or illness. Often the right kind of aid makes the difference between life and death.

Being prepared to give effective first aid takes time and study—before emergencies arise. It is too late to learn and dangerous to guess afterward. You and your family can meet most emergencies by enrolling now in a first aid course, learning how to follow through on these 10 aids to give first:

1. Act promptly. Examine the victim from head to toe. Look for breathing obstructions, bleeding and broken bones.
2. Send for help. First aid "holds the line" until a physician takes over. Call him at once.
3. Stop bleeding. A snug bandage or pressure dressing usually checks bleeding. If not, press firmly at the point which cuts off blood flow to the injured area. Use a tourniquet only when other methods fail.
4. Look for shock—face drained of color, cold moist skin, rapid weak pulse, fainting. Wrap the victim in blankets, make him lie down unless doing so will make other injuries worse, and try to calm him. If he can swallow, has no abdominal injury, and is not vomiting, have him drink as much "shock solution" as possible. Make the solution by stirring one teaspoon of table salt and a half teaspoon of baking soda into a quart of water.

5. In poisonings, follow antidote instructions on the poison container label if it is at hand. Otherwise, give egg whites beaten in water, or plain water, to dilute poison. If the poison was not corrosive or kerosene, induce vomiting.
6. Give artificial respiration in drownings or electrical shock. Learn artificial respiration techniques now, before an emergency.
7. Handle with care. Don't move an injured person unless necessary; then use a stretcher, or make one with blankets, a board or ladder padded with clothing.
8. Splint broken bones. The time honored rule is to "splint 'em where they lie." Make splints from any firm object, and long enough to reach well beyond the joints above and below the suspected break.
9. Care for burns by applying a sterile gauze dressing and cover with bandages. Don't pull off clothing stuck to burned tissue. In case of chemical burns, rinse immediately with plenty of water.
10. After covering wounds with sterile dressings, bandage to guard against infection, reduce bleeding and lessen pain.

David A. Ulmer, Area Farmer, Dies Thursday at Home

Funeral services for David Allen Ulmer, 66-year-old farmer out on Route 2, Hamlin, were conducted last Thursday afternoon at the Hamlin First Baptist Church.

Ulmer, who had been ill about three weeks, died at the family home last Tuesday night. He had been a resident of the community since 1942.

Born October 5, 1891, at Bonham, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ulmer. He married the former Eula Hanson at Stamford on June 16, 1916. They had farmed in the area for 16 years.

Officiating for the final rites Thursday afternoon was the pastor, Rev. Calvin Bailey, who was assisted by Rev. R. A. Guthrie and Rev. John Hollan.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Surviving Ulmer are his widow, Mrs. Eula Ulmer of Hamlin; four sons, Alvin Ulmer of Sagerton, Ray Ulmer of Hamlin, Macon Ulmer of Olney and Ewell Ulmer of Hobbs, New Mexico; four daughters, Mrs. George (Stella) Huffstutler of San Angelo, Mrs. A. M. (Bertha) Hughes of Lake Charles, Louisiana, Mrs. J. A. (Carol Ann) Traugher of Seeley, California, and Mrs. R. M. (Jean) Bennett of Rotan; three brothers, Leonard Ulmer of Stamford, Philip Ulmer of Fort Worth and Henry Ulmer of Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Cora Coleman and Mrs. Emma Coleman of Ackerly and Mrs. Frank Sasebee of Stamford; and 16 grandgrandchildren.

VISITS IN OKLAHOMA.
Mrs. H. A. Johnston spent part of her vacation in Oklahoma City visiting with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Moore, and children.

Sunday School Total Attendance Slumps to Record Low Sunday

Attendance at Sunday Schools of Hamlin churches took the biggest dip in several years Sunday when only 823 was recorded by the 12 reporting churches. This total was 435 less than previous week and 328 less than the year ago total. Vacations and outings resulting from the long holiday week-end apparently were responsible for the major drop.

Attendance, by churches, for July 6, June 29 and a year ago follows:

Churches—	July 6	June 29	Year Ago
Four-square Gospel	37	56	68
Ch. of Nazarene	68	83	68

Mrs. Minnie Boiles Succumbs Friday After Short Illness

Mrs. Minnie Lee Boiles, 71-year-old wife of a retired Hamlin area farmer, succumbed last Friday morning at the family home on Route 3 out of Hamlin after an illness of about two months.

Born Minnie Lee Gibbs on November 18, 1886, in Van Zandt County, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gibbs. She married H. Boiles in Eastland County on December 27, 1903. They had resided in the Hamlin area for 25 years.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Foursquare Gospel Church in Hamlin. Officiating at the services were T. J. McClelland, Gene Pennick and Sister Oma Jones.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Surviving Mrs. Boiles are her husband, H. Boiles of Hamlin; five sons, T. A. Boiles of Midland,

Mrs. Charles H. Scott Attends English Clinic

Mrs. Charles H. Scott, teacher of English in Hamlin High School, returned Friday from Wichita Falls, where she attended a three-week English workshop at Midwestern University.

Her course was in "Structural Linguistics," being under the sponsorship of the National Council of Teachers of English. It was the first such workshop offered in this area, Mrs. Scott said. Featured lecturers included Dr. Sumner Ives of Tulane University at New Orleans, Louisiana, and Dr. Priscilla Tyler of Western Reserve University of Cleveland, Ohio.

J. E. Boiles of California, H. B. Boiles of Fort Worth, O. D. Boiles of Breckenridge and Buster Boiles of Midland; five daughters, Mrs. I. C. Crawford of Abilene, Mrs. J. W. Stapler of Hamlin, Mrs. Harold Martin of Abilene, Mrs. O. C. Faulkner's Story of Deep South Slated As Ferguson Film

Jerry Wald's production of William Faulkner's "The Long, Hot Summer" was anything but that in the making. The staff and the cast were plagued by rain, the weather was the coldest the area had suffered all year, every member of the cast and crew came down with colds or influenza, the daylight was so quick to fade that the day's shooting schedule had to be shortened and filming began on the first day of autumn.

Moreover, in spite of all these handicaps, Wald and Director Martin Ritt took a brilliant cast—Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Anthony Franciosa, Orson Wells, Lee Remick and Angela Lansbury—and a superb story by one of America's greatest living authors and turned it into a Twentieth Century Fox presentation which captures technically, as well as artistically, the real flavor of the Deep South.

Ironically, Mississippi, where the story is set, did not quite look like Mississippi to the prying eye of the cinemascopic cameras. So the entire company set up shop in the Baton Rouge area of Louisiana. This, they decided, really looked like Mississippi.

Shooting in seven main locations—near St. Francisville, two private homes near Clinton, near False River, at The Hermitage, an ancient manor house near Darrow, and in the Clinton town square, the company managed to grasp the kind of backdrop for which the term of Wald and Ritt are rapidly becoming famous.

At every turn there seemed to be something happening which made the production, which plays at the Ferguson Theater Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, even more difficult. Paul Newman sustained a bad head gash from a fall and had to be photographed only from a distance for over a week. Anthony Franciosa ripped his left hand on a pick during a scene, Lee Remick's face swelled up from an infected tooth and her scenes had to be cancelled for days.

VISITS ALAMO—William Faulkley, candidate for United States senator, takes time out from a busy schedule to visit the Alamo at San Antonio, and take some movies. Faulkley's handshake, observers reported, was still as firm as it was when he first came to San Antonio as when he departed. He shook thousands of hands all over town.

Independence and Freedom Can Only Be Secured by Vigilance, Says Johnson

A deep concern about the future of our country is shared, I think, by all Texans and all Americans, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news letter to The Herald. His release continues: All of us realize, I believe, that the way of life we have known is under attack as it has never before been under attack during the 182 years since our declaration of independence declared this a free nation and its individual citizens capable of self government.

No one can read the alarming daily headlines without wondering whether our children will enjoy the rich, full life that has meant so much to Americans. All of us want our children to grow up in a country where freedom and opportunity are more than slogans.

This is a goal we can achieve if we unite on the things we are

for—instead of dividing on the things we are against.

The major problem before us is maintaining the strength that will preserve our freedoms. And that does not mean military strength alone. A nation that is strong and vital in spirit will not lack for the power to defend itself.

And strength and vitality exist in proportion to the care we devote to our problems as a nation and as a people.

One of the things we have learned in the 182 years of our existence as a nation is that independence and freedom cannot be maintained merely because we desire their maintenance.

We have to work at it—consciously and knowingly—to have freedom as a way of life. And part of the work, an integral part, involves making sure that our government is not only free but effective as well.

Working for freedom is not a part time job. It follows that government itself cannot be a "something thing"—something we look to only when somebody is in trouble or when election day is at hand. Our responsibilities as freedom loving citizens of a free and independent nation must be exercised every day.

Over the years, our country has been good to us—as it was good to our fathers and their fathers before them. We have had good times and we have had bad times. We have known both prosperity and adversity. We have experienced both war and peace. But even in the worst of times, our country has still offered us more freedom and greater opportunity than any other the world has ever known.

This is our heritage and it is a noble one. We must guard it against enemies from without. We must unceasingly protect it against erosion from within. Only through the exercise of unceasing vigilance can we hope we pass on to those who come after us the rich

Fleahoppers, boll worms and boll weevils in increasing numbers are reported this week in the Hamlin area, according to the weekly cotton insect report of Texas, released by the Texas agricultural extension service in cooperation with the plant pest control branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Highlights of the general state reports, with special paragraphs on the Northwest Texas area, are taken from the release as follows: Thrips infestations were reported light in all areas except East, Northeast, Central, West Cross Timbers, Northwest and North Plains. Fleahopper infestations were reported to be ranging from light to heavy in all areas of the state. Bollworms and weevils were observed to be generally light to medium throughout the state, except in the Lower Valley where sharp increases have been noted.

Light infestations of pink bollworms were reported light in Central and North Central areas. Grasshoppers were reported to be causing severe damage in the Northwest area and causing some damage on field margins in Central and North Central areas. Other pests such as aphids, leaf-worms, spider mites, square borers, lygus bugs and cabbage loopers were reported to be causing some damage.

In the Northwest Texas area, of which the Hamlin section is a part, this report is made: Light to medium infestations of thrips were reported in Wilbarger County. Light infestations of fleahoppers were reported from Wilbarger, Jones and Stonewall Counties. Severe grasshopper infestations were reported from Hall County. Bollworms and weevil infestations were reported light in Jones County with lygus bugs infestations heavy.

Business Planning All During Year Helps At Income Tax Time

A large part of us might prefer to forget all about income tax payments after April 15, and not worry about it again until at least April 14, 1959, when we have to fill our 1958 federal income tax return, muses Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. But, of course, it doesn't pay to do this.

When you read in the paper about John Doe being worth a few million dollars, you can bet that he didn't forget about his income tax except on April 15.

The amount of income tax that you pay every year depends upon your business planning. If you want to avoid paying a lot of income taxes, you simply determine how much tax a business trans-
